BOERS PUT TO FLIGHT

LEFT A GUN, FORAGE AND TENTS.

French Reported That the Horse Batteries Did Great Execution Among the Burghers—British Casualties About 50. Lieutenant Keswick Killed.

LONDON, March 8.—The war office posted the following advices from Lord Roberts;

"POPULAR GROVE, Wednesday, March 7.—Evening.—We had a very successful day and have completely routed the enemy, who are in full retreat.

"The position which they occupied is extremely strong and cunningly arranged with a second line of intrenchments, which would have caused us heavy loss had a direct attack been made.

"The turning movement was necessarily wide, owing to the nature of the ground, and the cavalry and horse artillery horses are much done up.

"The fighting was practically confined to the cavalry division, which, as usual, did exceedingly well, and General French reports that the horse artillery batteries did great execution among the enemy.

"Our casualties were about 50. I regret to say that Lieutenant Keswick was killed and Lieutenant Bailey was severely wounded, both of the Twelfth Lancers. Lieutenant De Crespigny, of the Second Life Guards, was severely wounded. Remaining casualties will be telegraphed tomorrow.

"Generals Dewet and Delarey commanded the Boer forces."

OSFONTEIN, March 8.—Lord Roberts' force advanced early Tuesday morning. General French turned the southern part of the position of the Boers, who fled incontinently, leaving a gun, immense quantities of forage and their tents. He is now in pursuit.

The Boers on the north bank are also evacuating the position.

COMMANDANT'S MISTAKE.

Boer Report Said It Resulted in the Raising of the Siege of Ladysmith.

BOER CAMP, Biggarsberg, March 8.—The federals have fallen back on the Biggarsberg chain that crosses Natal, south of Dundee. The retreat from Ladysmith was due to a mistake of a certain commandant in ordering his men to retire from the key of the position without any reason for the move.

On the receipt of the bad news from the Modder river it was resolved to send the wagons back to Biggarsberg, and soon long strings of ox wagons lined the roads. Over 1,000 wagons took the westerly route to the larger southwest of Ladysmith. Another convoy was sent to the foot of the Drakensberg. A large number of tents captured from the British at Dundee and also ammunition were abandoned.

The chief difficulty was in dismounting "Long Tom."

The Boers were independent of the railway, as is shown by the fact that not one of their 2,000 wagons went by rail. All travel in the byway road together with the field batteries. Only big guns, the infantry and the wounded went by rail.

When the last train had left Elands-laagte a workmen's train followed, carefully blowing up bridges and culverts between Ladysmith and Glencoe and, when this had been done, setting fire to the Elands-laagte collieries. Thus the British, with Natal's southernmost collieries in their hands, are unable to draw supplies therefrom.

Under cover of the night, and with the collieries sending lurid flames to heaven, the bullock wagons wound over the hills, making roads where none before existed, and the four months' siege of Ladysmith was raised.

CRONJE TO ST. HELENA.

British Decide to Send Him and Other Boer Prisoners to the Island.

LONDON, March 8.—The military authorities have decided that General Cronje and the other Boer prisoners shall be sent immediately to the island of St. Helena, there to remain until the end of the war.

Lord Roberts has chosen Lord Bathurst, colonel of a militia regiment at the front, to command the escort to St. Helena, which was last month placed in cable communication with Cape Town and London.

It is also asserted that the cabinet has resolved neither to propose nor to entertain a proposal at the present juncture for exchange of prisoners.

TO REIMBURSE BUSHNELL.

Ohio Senate Passed Bill to Pay Him and McLean For the Fourth's Expenses.

COLUMBUS, O., March 8.—The senate passed the Dodge bill, appropriating money to pay the expenses of the Fourth Ohio regiment and unattached companies which went to New York to participate in the Dewey celebration.

It was understood during the campaign that John R. McLean and Governor Bushnell were to advance the money for expenses of the Fourth, but under the provisions of this bill, these gentlemen will now be reimbursed.

SUSPECTED PLAGUE CASE.

Suspicious as to the Cause of a Chinaman's Death in San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 8.—A case of what is supposed to be bubonic plague, though the exact nature of the disease is yet uncertain, has been discovered in Chinatown. The victim, who was a Chinaman, living at 1004 Dupont street, died, and the whole of Chinatown has been placed under strict quarantine.

The physicians are not yet prepared to make a definite statement, but others who have had experience say the case will hardly prove to be plague, as the dead man had long been a resident of this city.

NEW BANKS TO BE STARTED.

Many National Institutions Will Be Set Up on Very Small Capital.

NEW YORK, March 8.—Advices received by local banking interests from small towns throughout the United States indicate that state banks in all sections of the country are preparing to take out charters under the national system as soon as the currency bill becomes a law.

One man from a western town told a bank officer that he expected to start eight banks, with a capital of $25,000. Reports of similar preparations in other sections of the country led to a prediction by an officer of one of the best known banks that fully 2,000 national charters would be applied for after existing restrictions were modified.

Negroes Ordered Mustered Out.

HARRISBURG, March 8.—An order was issued from national guard headquarters ordering the muster out of the Gray Invincibles of Philadelphia, the only organization of colored troops in the guard, because it is inefficient and in an unsatisfactory condition and had been recommended for disbandment by the inspector.

RIVERS OUT OF BANKS.

Streams in Northern Ohio Flooded—Serious Damage at Some Places. Bridge Destroyed.

CLEVELAND, March 8.—Telegrams from various points in Northern Ohio indicated that great damage was being done by floods.

At Fremont the Sandusky river overflowed its banks and submerged the lower part of the town. Cellars of business houses were filled with water and many factories were compelled to close down.

At Warren the Mahoning river reached the danger point and the lower part of the town was flooded. Much damage resulted at Massillon owing to the Tuscarawas river overflowing its banks.

The Grand river, at Painesville, was out of its banks and a serious flood was feared.

The bridge of the Sandusky, Milan and Norwalk electric road, at Milan, was washed away and much other damage done.

Rocky river was on a rampage at Berea, where 200 acres were submerged and the water was still rising.

The stone quarries of the Cleveland Stone company and the village pumping station were covered with water, entailing heavy losses.

FIRE LOSS OVER $700,000.

Conflagration in Retail Drygoods District in Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, March 8.—A fire entailing an estimated loss of over $700,000 occurred in the retail drygoods district. The conflagration originated in the engine room of Shoneman Brothers' drygoods and millinery store at Eighth and Arch streets.

The loss is placed at $300,000. Marks Brothers, dry goods store, adjoining, was partially damaged by smoke and water and their store house was completely gutted, entailing an estimated loss of $300,000.

The flames spread to the building on Cherry street occupied by Myerhoff Brothers, manufacturers of women's and children's clothing, and the Philadelphia Electrical Equipment company. Nothing was left of this place but the walls. The loss is placed at $200,000.

Several smaller buildings were more or less seriously damaged.

About 1,500 persons, men, women and children, were thrown out of employment by the fire.

AN AWE-INSPIRING SIGHT.

Sovereign Read His Description of Dynamiting, in Idaho Strike.

WASHINGTON, March 8.—James R. Sovereign, former grand master workman of the Knights of Labor, resumed his testimony at the Couer d'Alene investigation before the house committee on military affairs.

The members of the committee cross-examined Mr. Sovereign at considerable length. Representative Hull again took him over the assembling of miners on the morning the mill was blown up. The witness said it was evident there was some preconcerted action. At Mr. Hull's request Mr. Sovereign read an article in the paper edited by him on "Bunker Hill destroyed; 1,000 determined men wreak vengeance on the scab mine."

The article said that half of the 1,000 men were masked and armed with Winchester rifles, and described the awe-inspiring scenes as 3,000 pounds of dynamite were placed under the mine concentrator, one of the largest in the world, and it was completely wrecked after three terrific explosions.

THE LABOR WAR IN CHICAGO.

Building Contractors Announce Their Determination to Reject Arbitration.

CHICAGO, March 8.—Apparently all hope of a settlement in the near future of the differences between the unions affiliated with the building trades council and the contractors were dissipated when the building contractors' council made a declaration that no opportunity to arbitrate will be afforded by that body no matter what pressure may be brought to bear by the industrial commission soon to meet here.

NO COMPROMISE OF SUIT.

Carnegie Attorneys Deny That Any Peace Negotiations Are On.

PITTSBURGH, March 8.—President C. M. Schwab, of the Carnegie Steel company, limited, arrived here from New York, where he had been conferring with Andrew Carnegie for several days. It is now learned that the answer of the Carnegie company will not be filed until early next week.

The rumor that a compromise had been reached in the Carnegie-Frick trouble was strenuously denied.

A DAY IN WALL STREET.

Dealings Approached the Point of Stagnation—Movement of Prices Without Significance.

NEW YORK, March 8.—Professional bear operators suspended their campaign for a decline in the stock market Wednesday. The bull contingent, on the other hand, was hampered by the continually increasing closer conditions in the money market and by the determined indifference of the outside public.

In consequence, dealing on the Exchange approached the point of stagnation, and the movement of prices was entirely without significance.

CASUALTIES OF BULLER'S ARMY.

The Total Losses in the Campaign to Ladysmith Reached 1,859.

LONDON, March 8.—Another list of the casualties sustained by General Buller's army from Feb. 14 to Feb. 27 shows: Killed, 123; wounded, 573; missing, 54. Of these the losses of the Inniskillings were as follows: Killed, 54; wounded, 162; missing, 23; Dublin Fusiliers, killed, 15; wounded, 97; missing, 18; Connaught Rangers, killed, 19; wounded, 105; missing, 8. Royal Irish Fusiliers, killed, 11; wounded, 63; missing, 2. Scots Fusiliers, killed, 18; wounded, 68; missing, 0. With the list of casualties issued Monday this makes the total cost to the rank and file in the final relief of Ladysmith 1,859 men.

MISS WHEELER NOT ENGAGED.

She Denied the Report—The General's Reception.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 8.—General Wheeler and daughter were landed in this city. He said he resigned from the army before congress met, so his seat could not be affected.

His daughter denied she was engaged to be married. It was reported she was to marry Lieutenant Fiscus, of Pennsylvania.

Third Death May Result.

PITTSBURGH, March 8.—It is not unlikely that a third death will occur as a result of the collapse of the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago railroad bridge across Robinson street. James F. Martin, the conductor of the ill-fated train, whose body was frightfully scalded, lies at the point of death in the Allegheny General hospital, though there is yet a ray of hope that he will recover.

Samoa Treaty Ratifications Exchanged.

WASHINGTON, March 8.—The ratifications of the Samoa treaty were exchanged at the state department by Secretary Hay for the United States, Lord Pauncefote for Great Britain and Dr. Von Holleben for Germany. The treaty submits the claims to the arbitration of King Oscar, of Sweden.

Brothers Indicted For Murder.

MEDIA, Pa., March 8.—The grand jury found true bills of indictment against James Pierce and Amos, alias "Pinny" Pierce, his brother, charging them with the murder of George B. Eyre, of Chester, on Dec. 21 of last year. The trial of the cases has been postponed until the June term.

Bowed Down to Freedman.

NEW YORK, March 8.—The baseball magnates did practically nothing at their meeting. It developed that some time ago the fine in the Ducky Holmes case was remitted to him with 6 per cent interest.

WEATHER FORECAST.

Ohio—Fair today; warmer in northern portion; partly cloudy and warmer tomorrow; variable winds.

Western Pennsylvania—Fair today. Tomorrow fair; warmer; variable winds.

Wealthy Man Suicided.

NEW YORK, March 8.—Conrad H. Abelman, a wealthy retired produce merchant, 50 years old, committed suicide at his home in Brooklyn. He had suffered from nervous prostration for months.

FIVE RESCUED ALIVE

Seriously Injured Taken From Red Ash Mine.

29 DEAD BODIES ARE SECURED.

Estimates of the Number Who Perished Placed at 50, 60 and Even 70—List of Known Dead—Speculation as to Cause. Number of Funerals Held.

FIRE CREEK, W. Va., March 8.—The rescuing parties continued working hard at Red Ash mine in removing the debris and securing the bodies of the victims of the explosion.

The scenes of distress among those hunting their missing friends are still as appalling as the day before. The work at the mine continued night and day, and it was still impossible to give the exact number of the victims or to identify all of the bodies that have been recovered. The most conservative estimates of some of those connected with the mine places the number of killed at 52, and there are others who insist that the number of victims will be found to reach 60.

A report from the rescuers at the mine was that 34 had been taken out, 29 being dead and five seriously injured. Those rescued alive are: Carl Downey, John L. Day, Joseph Elliott, John Kane and Harry Dawson. While the surviving miners and others estimate that there are at least 39 miners entombed, General Manager Howell says there are still in the mine only 36. The estimate of the latter would indicate that there were 70 killed and five injured, and it is conceded that all of those still in the mine are dead.

None of the mines in this district were yet working, and thousands of people visited the scene of the Red Ash disaster. Some of the dead bodies have been shipped to the former homes of the victims. Many funerals were held here Wednesday and many will be held today.

No definite cause for the explosion has yet been learned by Governor Atkinson, the state and district mine inspectors and others who are investigating the cause. In addition to the theories of dust, fire damp, etc., it was claimed that natural gas escaped into the mine and that it ignited when the miners entered with their lighted lamps. The work of rescuing parties is retarded by hot air and it is thought the mine is on fire. Air is being pumped into the mine by compression. It will probably be several days before all the bodies can be recovered, as they are scattered along for almost a mile under the ground and it will require much time to clear the debris from this long subterranean course.

The following bodies of the victims of the Red Ash disaster were removed from the mine:

Simon Fitts.
Neville Ramsey.
Ed. Hamrick (white), aged 12.
Volley Agery.
John Stone.
Bob Hall.
Smith Franklin.
Hollister Noell.
Isaac Morris.
N. Dewes (colored).
The body of a white man, as yet not identified, was also rescued.

It is discovered that there were three more men in the mine than were known of Tuesday—Isaac Morris, Walter Dennis, and a man whose name is not known, all colored.

VAUGHN DIED AFTER OPERATION.

Four Deaths From the Missouri Pacific Wreck—Another May Die.

KANSAS CITY, March 8.—W. R. Vaughn, the Cincinnati newspaper man, who was injured in the Missouri Pacific wreck at Independence a week ago, died at the University hospital, after an operation on his arm. This makes four deaths as a result of the wreck.

Vaughn was 30 years old and unmarried. W. R. Vaughn, a Washington newspaper man, is his father.

Mrs. J. Balke, a relative of Mrs. and Miss Schridlapp, of Cincinnati, who were killed in the wreck, is still in a critical condition.

SUBURBAN NEWS.

JAMES N. RUSSELL,

A WELL-KNOWN BUSINESS MAN, PASSED AWAY.

Salt Well to Be Established on Allison Farm—W. C. Johnson to Be Census Enumerator.

Dr. James Nelson Russell, aged 56, died at his home in Chester yesterday afternoon after a short illness. Congestion of the brain was the cause of his death, although he was completely paralyzed when he died.

Dr. Russell was born and raised in Virginia. He moved with his family to Chester in April, 1897, coming from Mason county, in the southern part of the state. He was the father of four children, two boys and two girls. Russell was well acquainted with Devil Anse Hatfield. A few weeks ago Russell said he intended to go back to Mason county during the spring and spend a few weeks with Hatfield, as they had arranged to go hunting in the mountains.

Doctor Russell was a Mason, belonging to the lodge at Mason City, W. Va. It is likely the services will be in charge of the Masons of Chester.

He owned a third interest in the Chester Drug company.

The remains will be taken by boat to Mason City tomorrow evening for interment.

JOHNSON APPOINTED

Census Enumerator of Grant District. Population Expected to Reach 2,300.

Justice of the Peace Washington C. Johnson, of the Grant district, will be appointed census enumerator of that district. A few days ago Johnson received a letter from Hon. Harvey W. Harmer, of Clarksburg, W. Va., stating that his application and recommendations had been carefully examined and the "papers" were not surpassed by any applicant for the position in the First congressional district of West Virginia, which is composed of the eleven northern counties.

The Grant district is bounded on the east and south by the Pennsylvania state line, on the north by the Ohio river, and on the west by the Poe district. Fronting on the river the district extends from the state line to Mahans. In 1890 the census of the district was taken by Johnson. The population was then 1,121, and this year Johnson expects to see that number doubled. He will receive from $4 to $6 a day and also 15 cents for every farm listed.

A SALT WELL.

One May Be Opened on the Margaret Allison Farm.

Charles Allison and Harry Mercer have approached C. A. Heck relative to the purchasing of the latter's well on the Margaret Allison farm. A vein of salt has been located, and the men who desire to get this particular well claim that salt can be taken out in paying quantities. It is said that Heck is willing to sell.

Among the Sick.

Lincoln Allison is quite ill at his home in Chester, suffering with an attack of pneumonia.

Mrs. Plotts, who has been very ill at her home on Caroline avenue for several weeks, has recovered.

John McClure is very low with fever at his home on the Huff farm. It is feared by his friends that he cannot recover.

Toll Collector Sick.

Toll Collector Todd is confined to his home on Fourth street with an attack of grip. His son is now looking after the office.

For a spring suit go to F. Laufberger's.

AFTER A SITE.

REPRESENTATIVES OF THE WHEEL COMPANY

Are Coming to East End—A Poultry Farm to Be Established in the Suburb.

Alex. Chaffin, of East End, is in receipt of a letter from the Portsmouth Wheel company, located at Washington Court House. Mr. Chaffin would not give out the contents of the letter, but said that matters were very favorable for the company to locate their plant in the East End, and that probably next week representatives of the company would be in the suburb to look after available manufacturing sites. Every influence will be used to have the company come to East End, inasmuch as they employ a large amount of skilled labor.

POULTRY FARM.

One Will be Established in East End Soon.

A poultry farm is to be established in the East End within the next few weeks and the details of the new industry, if it could be called such, are now being arranged. The farm will be owned by W. S. Burton, of Fallsburg, Ky., and John Jackson, of East End. Burton is now in the suburb conferring with Jackson and will leave for his southern home Friday evening. Next week he will ship, if they can be secured, 500 chickens to Jackson and he will open the "barn yard." Several good sized lots are being considered on which the farm will be established, but no lease has been made.

Changed Shops.

Edward MacKintosh, a printer at the Laughlin China Co.'s old plant, has been transferred to the new pottery in the East End. The change was made yesterday afternoon and three girls who worked with MacKintosh were also transferred to the new works. All the employes of the old plant are gradually being moved to the new works and new labor is being placed in the old pottery.

Among the Sick.

The condition of Harvey Haslett, who has been quite ill at his home near Dry Run for several weeks, is unchanged.

There is no change in the condition of Benjamin Heckathorne, who is ill at his home in Helana.

A New Walk.

John Spence, who has charge of the East End streets, is now employed in constructing a cinder path from the potteries fronting along the railroad to Mulberry street. This is something that has been long needed.

Three Months of School.

Superintendent Grant McDade, of the Neville institute, stated yesterday that the institute would close about June 1. The institute has nine months of school.

Another New House.

Alex. Chaffin, East End, will commence the erection of a new house on Erie street within the next few weeks. Plans have been prepared.

Repaired the Crossing.

The railroad crossing at Mulberry street was repaired yesterday. It has been in a bad condition for some weeks.

Moved to East End.

James Brown and family have moved to East End from Louisa, Ky. Their effects arrived Tuesday.

Buyer in Town.

Henry J. Dake, purchaser for Autenreith & Sons, Allegheny City, was in our city today visiting various potteries and picking up bargains in the way of novelties.

SEVERAL WELLS

WILL BE DRILLED IN ST. CLAIR TOWNSHIP.

Arbuckles Have 1,200 Acres Leased and Intend to Start Drilling Next Week.

The Arbuckles of Pittsburg, who have 1,200 acres of land leased in and around St. Clair township will commence to drill for oil or gas very soon. The first well will be down on the Dan Johnson farm and the drilling machinery will be hauled to that farm the first of next week. It is the intention of the parties to thoroughly develop the territory and several wells will be put down. St. Clair citizens are somewhat excited over the affair, and it is probable a number of people will put down wells on their own land.

SAD SEQUEL

To the Death of Walter Perdue, a Railroader Well Known Here.

ALLIANCE, March 8.—[Special]—There is a sad sequel to the death of Walter Perdue, who was killed on the Cleveland and Pittsburg road about two weeks ago. He was engaged to Miss Artie Patterson, of Alliance, and the shock so terribly affected the young lady that on Tuesday morning she attempted suicide by swallowing a dose of arsenic. Only the most heroic efforts of the attending physician saved her life. Her family has been very unfortunate of late. Her father has been ill for several years; a brother died of typhoid while serving in Cuba, and another brother was killed on the railroad. The death of her betrothed was the culmination which led her to attempt her own life.

MAKING A CHANGE.

The Dresden Pottery Will Once More Use Gas to Fire All Their Kilns.

It will only be a short time until all the kilns at the Dresden pottery will be fired with gas. The company has decided to dispense with the use of coal as far as possible and the pipes to the kilns are now being put in and the change will be made as soon as possible. The Ohio Valley Gas company will supply the pottery. It is thought to be only a question of a short time until almost all the plants are using gas, as the Ohio Valley company has a plentiful supply of it and there is no danger of a shortage.

ANNUAL MEETING.

The Water Works Trustees Will Finish the Year's Business on March 23.

The annual meeting of the water works trustees will be held Friday evening, March 23. Clerk Gipner will present his annual report of the amount of money collected and expended during the year and Superintendent Morley will present an annual report of the work of the department. It is expected both reports will be very good.

Not in the Race.

James E. Green has declined the nomination for marshal on the Democratic ticket and the Democrats now have four vacancies on the ticket nominated at the city convention held last week.

FRANK B. PEARSON.

Lecture, "Yellowstone Park," Grand Opera House, March 9. Tickets and seats on sale at Reed's.

Execution of the Duke d'Enghien.

Colonel Laborde, knowing that the grave was actually dug in which the duke was to be put, after a short time awakened him and told him, if he had a lock of his hair or a letter to send to any of his family, that he (Colonel Laborde) would take care to forward it and would only part with it with his life. The duke replied, "I understand you." He cut off a lock of his hair, wrote a short letter and desired that a confessor might be sent to him. He was soon afterward led out.

Five of the soldiers refused to fire at him. They were immediately shot before his face and their bodies thrown into a ditch. They desired to put a bandage before his eyes. He answered he had looked death in the face before and could face it again. Seventeen soldiers fired at him.

Mme. Bonaparte did everything possible to save the duke. She implored Bonaparte on her knees, holding the skirt of his coat, which was torn off by his violent manner of going from her. She seized the other skirt, which was likewise torn off, and Bonaparte declared he would never go to bed till the duke was dead.

Lucien Bonaparte also exerted himself to the utmost, and, finding he had no success, in a rage took out a watch Bonaparte had given him, dashed it on the ground, breaking it in pieces, and said to his brother, "You will be treated in the same manner!"—"Life of Lady Stanley."

Her Advice.

John Luther Long, the well known author of several successful books and the teller of many charming stories, spent a summer at a resort along the New Jersey coast. On his way to his home there he was obliged to stop over one night at Seabright, and this story is told of his little visit: He was recognized by several people, and when he entered the dining room one of them came forward and asked him to occupy a seat at his table. He was quietly introduced as Mr. Long, and his literary reputation did not enter at all into the presentations. He was placed beside a very beautiful and charming young lady, and after awhile the conversation developed somewhat as follows: "Mr. Long, your name is quite familiar. I have run across it somewhere very recently."

"There are a great many Longs," he said. "No; but I mean that I have read something somewhere. Oh, yes; I remember. It was a story called 'The Fox Woman.' Do you know who wrote it?"

Mr. Long was blissfully ignorant. "Yes, I am sure that was it," she said. "It may be by a relative. What did you think of it?"

She gazed at him earnestly and replied, "Don't read it."—Saturday Evening Post.

$10,000 a Year For Queen Lili.

WASHINGTON, March 8.—The senate committee on foreign relations authorized the reporting of an amendment to the diplomatic appropriation bill appropriating $20,000 to be paid to ex-Queen Liliuokalani, and providing for an annual donation of $10,000 to her as long as she may live.

Thomas J. Mooney Dead.

CLEVELAND, March 8.—Word was received from Havana, Cuba, of the death of Thomas J. Mooney, of the firm of Mooney Bros., this city. Mr. Mooney had gone on a southern cruise for the benefit of his health. His death occurred at sea while on a day out from Havana.

Queen on Streets Today.

LONDON, March 8.—The queen today will drive through certain streets in London. Next winter she expects to visit Ireland.

It isn't the bodily sickness that hurts a man. He could stand that fairly well if his mind were easy. But Americans are busy. They have work to do—plans to make—schemes to execute. They are "plungers." They line up their incomes as soon as they receive them or re-invest them with the idea of increase. They cannot afford to be sick. Sickness is a calamity—a financial calamity as well as a physical one. So the sick man worries, and the more he worries, the sicker he grows.

Worry is a good thing at the right time. The minute you feel a symptom of sickness—worry about it—do something about it—cure yourself. When you begin to feel run-down—when a twinge of rheumatism tells you plainly that your blood is impaired—when you are losing flesh and vitality, go to the nearest drug store and get a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It is the greatest blood purifier and tissue builder on earth. It cures rheumatism and all other blood diseases by curing the cause. It purifies the blood and puts the blood making organs into good, healthy, working order. It tones up the stomach, stirs up the liver, helps the kidneys in their work and puts suffering nerves at rest. It contains no whisky, alcohol, opium or other dangerous drugs and does not, therefore, create a craving for stimulants or narcotics.

James E. Crampton, Esq., of Sharpsburg, Washington Co., Md., writes: "I was in business in Baltimore, and had rheumatism for three months; couldn't walk at all. I tried the best doctors I could get but they did me no good. I took three bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and it cured me sound. I came home to Sharpsburg and there were three cases of different diseases. I advised the patients to use Dr. Pierce's medicine, which they did, and all were cured. I have saved over one hundred dollars' worth of your medicine by telling people how it cured me. You can write to our druggist, Mr. G. F. Smith, in our town and he will tell you what I did for you in regard to selling and advertising your great remedies."

None Other.

There is no other foundation possible for a godly life and happiness than that which is laid in the life and teachings of Jesus of Nazareth. Whatever its crosses and self denials, whatever the privations and persecutions inseparable from the Christian course, there is no other possible road to excellence of moral and spiritual character. Self sacrifice is ever higher in quality and more powerful in soul dynamics than self seeking.

The lower passions may for a time dominate the world and occupy the places of power in commercial, political and social life, may even invade and usurp authority in the church, but so long as God is God and truth is truth so long will the rule of right be more potent than the rule of might. Whatever temporary successes and honors may be won by fraud and deceit, by lust and avarice, by cruelty and oppression, the day of God marches grandly on, and his children can afford to be patient and wait.

"Lo, I have overcome the world!" cries the Christ, and in His triumph we may share now and here. Not on the surface lies the safe basis of soul building. Dig deeper than customs and conventionalities of the times and build on bedrock for eternity.

Average Time of a Wink.

"In a twinkling of an eye" is a phrase for brevity, but M. Garten in "The Archives de Pfünger" has found the average time of a wink to be about .40 of a second. The eyelid descends in about .80 of a second, stays down about .13 of a second to .17 of a second and rises again in about .17 of a second. Winking varies much in different persons and rarely occurs when the attention is concentrated, but this omission is followed by a series of winks to make up, either by resting the eye or cleaning it.

FINE AND FIFTEEN DAYS

Meted Out to William Mushenheimer, of the East End,

FOR SELLING LIQUOR ON SUNDAYS

Cases Against His Wife and Son Nollod. Fine of Sherman Thomas Reduced From $25 and Costs to $10 and Costs—Other Saloon Cases Disposed Of.

LISBON, March 8—[Special]—The following liquor law violations were passed upon yesterday afternoon:

William Mushenheimer, of East End, East Liverpool, indicted for selling liquor on Sunday, was fined $50 and costs and sentenced to 15 days in the county jail.

His wife, Mrs. Kate Mushenheimer and his son, Charles Mushenheimer, also indicted, were not tried, their cases being nollod.

After consideration the court reduced the fine of Sherman Thomas, a minor of East Liverpool, sentenced to a fine of $25 and costs for furnishing liquor to a minor, to $10 and costs.

David Jones, Lisbon, was fined $30 and costs for selling to an habitual.

Edward Hickline, Lisbon, was fined $30 and costs for selling to a minor.

INDIGNANT FATHER.

He Demands That Heartless, Law-Breaking Saloonkeepers Shall Be Punished.

EDITOR NEWS REVIEW—John Ecker, who runs a saloon opposite city hall, East Liverpool, has been furnishing my boy with intoxicating liquor. He and his bartender, a big colored man known as "Jack," have been selling to my boy and to other boys in this city, carrying on their vile work right in front of municipal hall. I secured straight evidence, not hearsay, against these fellows in ten different cases, and could have made it at least twenty more cases. The grand jury at Lisbon found true bills in eight of the cases, and the court finally allowed Ecker to compromise by pleading guilty to four of the cases, giving him the penalty of $65 and costs in each case, and five days in jail in each case.

Fellow citizens, is it not infamous that such a den of villainy and iniquity, controlled and operated by such infamous law-breakers, is permitted to exist in this or any other city? Is it not high time that the "Clark" bill, or some more stringent and far-reaching bill, shall be enacted, in order that we may be rid of such hell holes and such characters as do devil's business behind screened windows and doors. Your boy is not safe, any more than is mine. These drunkard-makers have no conscience, and they have been carrying on their nefarious and illegal traffic under the very noses of the mayor and his officers. Some men assert that Ecker's sentence was a salty one. He should have received the full sentence of the law in each and every one of the eight cases when true bills were found against him, and justice was outraged when this was not done. It is high time that all true men and women of East Liverpool shall unite and drive the saloon from our city. Forbearance has ceased to be a virtue.

Will Dickey Is Home From Leadville, Where He Has Been For Several Months.

Will Dickey is home from Leadville, Col., where he has been for several months engaged in mining. Mr. Dickey states that they have had the heaviest snow in years at Leadville and mining is practically suspended. He will spend some time here before returning to the west. Al. Gould, a former Liverpool boy, is now located at Leadville, and is doing well.

COMING ATTRACTIONS.

Guy Brothers' Minstrels

Will be at the Grand tonight and will give a first-class performance. The Newark (O.) Daily says: "Guy Bros.' minstrels presented their annual entertainment in the opera house on Wednesday evening, and were greeted by a large audience of both ladies and gentlemen. The Guy brothers are very popular here, as evidenced by the large audiences they command. Their orchestral music was exceptionally good, the overture was well staged and first-class and the jokes new."

GET INSIDE.

Your Friends and Neighbors in East Liverpool Will Show You How.

Rubbing the back won't cure backache.

A liniment may relieve, but can't cure. Backache comes from the inside, from the kidneys.

Doan's kidney pills get inside.

They cure sick kidneys.

Here is East Liverpool proof that this is so:

Mr. H. Thompson, of 306 Fourth street, presser at the D. E. McNicol pottery, and resident of East Liverpool for the past 45 years, says: "During my campaign experiences between the years of '61 and '64 I contracted a weakness of the kidneys, and at intervals I had an aching pain across the small of my back and was subject to attacks of muscular rheumatism especially in damp weather. I was frequently so bad that I could scarcely get up when down, and in fact could hardly get around at all. I tried many remedies endeavoring to get rid of my trouble, but found nothing until I got Doan's kidney pills at the W. & W. pharmacy. They filled the bill exactly, giving me almost immediate relief, and warded off the last attack."

Not Absolutely Ignorant.

It is commonly understood that one of the newspapers of New York city has a rule to employ none but college graduates on its staff. It may or it may not be true. Nevertheless a young man of good address, bringing with him excellent recommendations and equipped for journalistic work by several years' experience, called one day at the editorial office of that paper.

He made so good an impression that the managing editor was about to assign him a place on the staff when, as if remembering something he had overlooked in examining the applicant, he suddenly asked:

"By the way, of what college or university are you a graduate?"

"I am not a graduate of any," replied the young man, "but I know better than to write 'pants' for 'trousers,' 'plead' for 'pleaded' and 'he was given a chance' for 'a chance was given him.' I never use the phrase 'in our midst.' I understand the correct use of 'who' and 'whom' and of 'shall' and 'will.' I prefer 'officer' to 'official,' 'dwelling' to 'residence.' I avoid 'as to whether,' 'abhor,' 'repentant,' never split an infinitive and never write a sentence long enough to tie in a double bow-knot."

He got the position.—Fourth Estate

Out of the Ordinary.

The two old friends, as has been narrated before, met again after years of separation.

"By the way, Gagster," said Throggins, "do you remember that snub nosed, cross eyed little Tilbury girl, with a face on her that would ditch an express train? She used to live some where in your neighborhood, I think."

"Oh, yes, I remember her perfectly," replied Gagster.

"What ever became of her?"

"I'm sorry to disappoint you, Throggins—here is where the variation comes in—but I have not the slightest idea. I didn't marry her."—Chicago Tribune.

THE ECKER CASE.

Fathers and mothers of East Liverpool, your sons are in deadly danger, for time and for eternity, when saloons like that run by Ecker, in front of municipal hall, are permitted to exist and carry on their infamously illegal traffic.

CAN THIS BE TRUE?

And now it is said, on good authority, that a prominent Republican councilman is and has been advising with Democracy, in common with the Liquor League, for the defeat of the Republican candidate for council in the Fourth ward, David McLane. If this be true, and there appears to be no doubt of its correctness, Mr. Councilman had better leave the party he disgraces.

HOMELESS CHILDREN.

State Senator Marchant has introduced a bill, supported by the state board of charities, which proposes the employment of a state children's home agent by the charities board, to devote his time to finding homes for the children. There are 2,400 children in the Ohio homes, most of whom, as matters stand, will remain there until they become of age for discharge. Indiana has just tried this experiment and found it so successful that the appropriation has been doubled.

WATCH THEM.

Yes, and watch them very closely. They are determined to try to down any and all men who will not bow to them and act in accordance with their orders and wishes. They don't care what party the candidates or nominees belong to. They don't want MEN elected. They want THINGS—creatures who can be bought and sold at so much a head. Of course we refer to the Liquor League of East Liverpool. They should be defied and taught a much needed lesson. The day of the rule of the whisky flask and beer keg has passed away. Better things are in sight. Give 'em open defiance. You can afford to do it. Be MEN—NOT THINGS.

OVERSTUDY.

A writer in the Ohio Educational Monthly says: In our own schools for a normal child the time required for school duties is as follows: In the primary grades only one-seventh of the child's waking hours in each year; in the grammar grades one-fifth of the waking hours, and in the high school one-fourth. These figures are based on an allowance of nine hours daily for sleep. Holidays are deducted, not recess time. For the upper grammar grades one hour of home study is included and two hours of home study in the high school. Over study will continue as long as parents insist upon pressing their children forward, either because they wish them to keep pace with their neighbor children or because they desire to get them through school as rapidly as possible so they can be put to work and earning wages. That too many studies are pursued, as asserted by Editor Bok, of the Ladies' Home Journal, this writer claims, is not a cause of over study. Instead, by adding variety, it gives zest to the studies. Improper hours and distractions outside of school do more harm than overstudy, although the evil effects are sometimes attributed to too much study. The co-operation of parents with teachers would obviate most of the overstudy.

Superintendent R. E. Rayman fully concurs with the opinions expressed by the writer in the Monthly. He says children are frequently overburdened outside of school, and that, taken in connection with their school work, does overwork them and the school gets the credit. Getting an education is not unlike getting anything else in this world. It requires time and effort in order to succeed. It would be well, Mr. Rayman adds, for Mr. Bok to consider some of these practical features that really exist in practical work, which, of course, he does not know anything about, not having had the experience.

MRS. REARK ILL.

Aged Lady Seriously Upset by Death of Two Grandchildren.

Mrs. Rebecca Reark, mother of Charles Reark, Fifth and Monroe, has been seriously ill with nervous prostration since the death of her two little grandchildren last week. She is 74 years of age, and the shock of the loss of her two favorite grandchildren completely unnerved her. Her many friends will be pained to learn of her illness but will be glad to know it is not of a dangerous nature, her condition being slightly better this morning.

TO BE REPORTED SOON

Senate Judiciary Committee to Act on Clark Local Option Bill

SOMETIME IN THE COMING WEEK

The Arguments in Detail as Presented at the Meeting of the Committee Held to Hear Petitions For and Protests Against the Bill.

COLUMBUS, March 8.—[Special]—The senate judiciary committee has heard arguments for and against the Clark local option bill, and it can now be asserted with reasonable positiveness that the committee, when it takes action next week, will report it without a recommendation as it came from the house and that the senate will pass the bill finally as it stands. Eighteen senators, three of a majority, are certain for the measure.

At the hearing every point made by the supporters of the bill was warmly applauded by the large audience, while the remarks of the opponents were received with silence and incredulous smiles. Mr. Clark, author of the bill, said it was merely designed to give the residents of wards and districts the power to say whether or not they wanted saloons within their districts. There was no infringement of personal liberty, but rather an amplification of it.

The opponents of the bill devoted most of their time to attacking prohibition, which, they said, was the ultimate aim of the Clark bill. They talked about the property rights of the liquor trade and the outrage of robbing the poor man of his "club." They also claimed that the bill was unconstitutional, but failed to prove it.

Mr. Todd, state lecturer for the farmers' institutes, declared that the farmers were heartily in favor of the bill. Those who spoke in favor of the bill were General Hurst, Chillicothe; Philip Roentinger, of Cincinnati, and Messrs. Clark and Todd. Those opposing were Judge Russell, of Meigs; A. W. Kramm, of Columbus, and Attorney Probasco, of Cincinnati, representing the liquor interests.

TRADES COUNCIL.

A Large Number of Delegates Were Seated Last Night.

Trades council met last night and the following delegates were seated: U. G. King, O. J. McHugh, typographical union, 318; E. J. Watkins, slipmakers, 21; A. E. Czech, tailors, 254; John Hughes, teamsters, 1,984; O. F. Patterson, George Pyle, porcelain makers, 1,669.

J. J. Weisend reported that the coopers had reorganized, and after transacting some routine business the council adjourned.

NAPOLEON AT ST. HELENA.

His Indignation at Being Spied Upon by His Keepers.

One of the "Talks With Napoleon" quoted from Dr. O'Meara's diary in The Century records Napoleon's indignation at being, as he considered it, spied upon while living at St. Helena. "I understand," said he, "that an officer is placed here to report about me and to see me two or three times in the 24 hours and that they are talking of making him go into my chamber to see me if I did not come out. Any person," said he then, with considerable agitation, "who endeavors to force his way into my apartment will be a corpse the moment he enters it. If he ever eats bread or meat afterward, I am not Napoleon. This I am determined on."

"I know that I will be killed afterward, as what can one do against a camp? But what of that? I have faced death many a time. Besides I am convinced that this governor, this chief of jailers, has been sent out on purpose to poison me or put me to death some way or another or under some pretext by Lord Castlereagh."

"I have seen," continued he, "Russians, Prussians, Arabs, Cossacks, Tartars, Spaniards, Persians, Turks" (here he enumerated a great many more), "and never in my life before did I behold so ill favored and forbidding a countenance or so down and horrid a look. He carries crime imprinted on his countenance. (Il porte le crime empreint sur son visage.) He is a man, to judge from his physiognomy, that one would select for the commission of any atrocious crime and as such has been selected out by your ministers, I suppose, on purpose to make away with me."

WON HIM A BRIDE.

The Ruse by Which One Young Man's Credit Was Established.

Major J. M. Burke told a good story of his experience in helping a friend to get the girl of his choice.

"He was a good fellow," said he, "but young and without much capital. The girl was a beauty and loved the boy, but the father (the same old irate father) objected and demanded that the boy show that he was capable of supporting a wife. This was in St. Louis about ten years ago, and the boy came to me with his troubles."

"Never mind," said I, "I'll fix it up all right. By the way, how much will you take for your right leg?"

"He looked at me as though I were crazy, but made no answer."

"I'll give you $10,000 for it," I said.

"Will you take it?"

"No, I won't," he said. "What do you take me for?"

"Well, I knew the girl's father; he was a merchant, and I called to see him. We finally drifted around to talking about this young fellow, and the old man flared a little, stating that he wanted some one who could support a wife to have his daughter."

"Support a wife!" said I, in surprise. "Why, he certainly can do all that. Only a few days ago he refused $10,000 for a piece of property."

"His own property?" asked the father.

"Certainly," said I.

"Who offered him the money?" asked he.

"I did, and he refused it," I answered. "He claimed it was worth more."

"Well, this made a hit, and no more questions were asked. The boy is doing well now and has a good family. I haven't spoken to the father since."—Washington Times.

More Than He Bargained For.

One evening when a traveling circus was on its way to a large town the proprietor resolved to make a halt for a few hours at a village some two or three miles from the town. So an agent was sent on in advance to the village to secure a favorable field for the rest by the wayside.

Noticing a large and suitable field, he sought out the owner and told him he would like to turn something out in the field for an hour or so before going on to the town and concluded by asking how much he required for the use of the field.

"Well," said the farmer, "I suppose half a crown won't hurt you."

"That," was the ready reply, "will do very well. But perhaps you don't mind taking a crown," an offer the somewhat astonished yeoman was only too glad to accept.

Fancy his surprise when, a few hours afterward, a herd of elephants, a dozen dromedaries and about 200 horses and ponies had not only been turned out into the field, but were fairly wiping the herbage out of existence.

That the farmer was furious goes without saying, but the circus proprietor pointed out that he had received twice as much as he had asked for something to be turned out for an hour or two.

"But," roared the farmer, more irate than ever, "do you think I bargained for a Noah's ark?"—Tit-Bits.

A Queer Transaction.

"A casual observer might suppose that our business was intensely prosaic," said a Poydras street commission merchant, "but such is far from being the case. All sorts of queer things happen in it, not the least of which are occasional consignments we receive from nowhere in particular."

"For instance, back in 1896 or thereabout we got a load of fine onions one day by boat. No directions accompanied them, but we took it for granted they would arrive by mail. When the expected letter failed to put in an appearance and we instituted inquiries, we could get no clew to the identity of the shipper, and all we could do was to sell the lot and deposit the money in bank, waiting on a claimant."

"Fully three years had elapsed when, to my surprise, another load of the same kind of onions came to hand, accompanied by a letter from the sender saying that he had forwarded a similar consignment at such and such a date and that his 'business relations with the house had been so satisfactory' he wished to repeat the transaction. We sent a check for the lump sum, but what the dickens he meant by his business relations being satisfactory when he had had only one deal with us, and didn't get his money on that. I never found out. I suppose he just forgot."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Their Little Weaknesses.

"Nations and women are a good deal alike."

"In what way?"

GORGEOUS SPLENDOR

Rainbow Raiment for the New City Marshal.

A GLORIOUS GLITTER OF GOLD

Will Shine Refulgent From Cap and Coat. New Police Rules and Regulations Adopted by the Police Committee at Last Night's Meeting.

This city is to have an up-to-date police force with the beginning of the new administration.

Councilmen Peach, Marshall, Ashbaugh, Seckerson and Fisher met last evening at city hall and prepared some new rules for the government of the police force. The rules will be submitted at the next regular meeting of council and will be adopted, in order that they may go into effect with the coming administration. They are as follows:

Sub-division 2, rule 1—"It is required that every person required to serve on the police force shall be able to read and write the English language; that they shall be citizens of the United States and residents of the city of East Liverpool. They must be over 21 years of age, and measure not less than 5 feet 10 inches or weighing not less than 160 pounds, and must be of good health, good moral character, steady habits and sound body."

Section 12, sub-division of the rules and regulations for the government of the police force, is amended to read as follows:

"That the chief of police shall wear a uniform consisting of regulation cap of dark navy blue, to have one-half inch of gold band around and also to have shield of office on the front of cap. Uniform to consist of frock coat to be within three inches of knee, with double row brass buttons on front of coat and one-half inch band of gold braid on shoulders of coat, also around each sleeve, and he shall wear badge of office on left breast of outer garment.

"The uniform of police shall consist of navy blue frock coat, to be buttoned to neck and to be within three inches of knee, single row of buttons and helmet-hat to be of dark navy blue, with shield on front of helmet.

"The chief of police and officers shall at all times while on duty wear full uniforms, and also wear belts, their clubs to be worn in belts on outside of coat. Police shall also keep uniforms neat and clean and also have shoes blackened. Any officer who shall appear on duty without observing the foregoing regulations shall be suspended by either the mayor or the marshal for the period of two weeks without pay, and it shall be the duty of the mayor and the marshal to enforce this rule to the letter."

The rules are signed by G. W. Ashbaugh and A. L. Seckerson, of the police committee.

HON. C. C. BAKER.

The Congressional Candidate In East Liverpool and Getting Acquainted.

Hon. C. C. Baker has been in our city today, arriving on the eastbound train last night. He is a man of fine appearance and superb address and creates a very favorable impression as he passes to and fro, hand-shaking and forming the acquaintance of our merchants, business men and pottery workers. He wins friends by the manner in which he is conducting his canvass, having nothing but the very best words for his opponents. This is as it should be. The day of scurrilous attacks upon a rival or political opponent, especially among men who belong to the same party, should be buried deep in the sea of oblivion.

R. D. VanFossen, our townsman, served in the same regiment with C. C. Baker in the days of the civil war, and he speaks of Comrade Baker in warm terms of praise, asserting that he was a model soldier, and a skillful horseman, winning friends in his regiment in the same manner as he now wins friends in civil life. VanFossen asserts that Baker is a hustler from away back, and says that his congressional rivals will know that they have been in a contest before the battle of ballots ceases.

KEMP NOT GUILTY.

Acquitted of the Charge of Burglary at Salem—Ramsey Sentenced.

LISBON, March 8.—[Special]—In the case of Harry Kemp, of Salem, charged with burglarizing the D. W. Bonnell store, Salem, the jury retired at 7:30 last evening, and after being out seven hours, returned a verdict of not guilty.

A motion for a new trial in the Thos. Ramsey case, found guilty of same charge, was argued last evening and was overruled by Judge W. W. Hole this morning.

Ramsey will be sentenced to the Ohio state reformatory at Mansfield this afternoon.

READY FOR PRIMARIES

JUDGES, SUPERVISORS & CLERKS

Were Appointed From Among the Members of the Central Committee—McLane's Election Was Ratified—Candidates Must Send In Their Names.

The Republican central committee met last night and ratified the selection of D. M. McLane as a candidate for council from the Fourth ward.

The members of the committee will act as supervisors, judges and clerks of the county primary to be held Saturday, March 24, between the hours of 1 and 6 p. m. standard time. The parties who will have charge of the election are as follows:

First ward—First precinct, Joe Betz, Wm. Miller, John S. Goodwin; Second precinct, W. V. Blake, William Randolph, A. W. King.

Second ward—First precinct, J. H. Burgess, Edward Hatton, Charles Kinney; Second precinct, J. N. Hanley, George Grosshans, John Bossen.

Third ward—First precinct, G. H. Owen, M. D. Logan, J. W. Irwin; Second precinct, Arthur Grim, John Reark, W. O. Watson.

Fourth ward—First precinct, A. W. Thomas, D. F. Nellis, Criss McConnell; Second precinct, George Smith, W. G. Pollock, F. R. Burchill.

Fifth ward—Charles Gallagher, Jay Fisher, Irwin Allison.

A rule was passed that all candidates for the central committee must hand their names to the secretary by tomorrow evening in order to get on the ticket. This is in accordance with the new rules of the county committee.

C. C. Baker was present at the meeting and was introduced to the members of the committee.

SIGNED THE PAPER

Without Examination and Later Found What It Was to Their Cost.

A couple of uptown business men were recently approached by a young man and asked to sign a paper, which they supposed was a recommendation for him. A few days ago they were notified by one of the companies which the young man represented that he was short and asking them to make good. They then discovered that the supposed recommendation had been a bond. By attaching the young man's money they raised $100 of the $312 claimed and gave their notes for the balance. There was some talk that they intended to take action on the matter, but this was found impossible in the circumstances and nothing will be done as long as he remains in this city.

SETTLED A CASE.

The Ikirt-Veder Litigation in the Tennessee Court Has Been Settled.

The case of John S. Veder versus the late Dr. J. J. Ikirt has been settled by the Tennessee courts. In 1894 the doctor and Veder traded properties, and later it was found that Veder didn't have a clear title to the land in Beaver county that he had traded for property in Tennessee, as his wife had sued him for non-support and obtained judgment. Veder claimed that his land was worth more than the doctor's and wanted $1,600 damages, while the doctor asked that the sale be set aside. After the death of Doctor Ikirt the case was carried on by his executors, and in the court of chancery of Coffee county, Tennessee, Veder was restrained from entering a suit for damages, but the court would not set aside the sale. The court of appeals reversed the decision and set aside the sale and the supreme court sustained the decision, meaning a complete victory for the executors of the estate. A. H. Clark and George S. Ramsey were the attorneys in the case, and the litigation is of particular interest to people in this city.

FELL FROM FOURTH FLOOR.

Clemet Lemmon Seriously Injured at the New Brewery Today.

Clemet Lemmon, of Mulberry street, East End, was seriously injured at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon by falling from the fourth story of the new Crookery City brewery.

Lemmon was employed by the Potter, Fry Iron company, Cincinnati, and was working under Henry Whitman, superintendent of the structural department. He was assisting to place an iron girder when he slipped back, missed his footing and fell onto the roof of the hoisting engine room. In falling Lemmon fell across a piece of iron half an inch in thickness, used as a girder support, knocking it out of position. He was removed to the office and Doctor Hobbs summoned. His right leg was broken below the knee and a deep cut made on left side of his head.

ATTRACTIVE ADDRESS.

Rev. E. C. Little Speaks on the "Sin of Not Doing" Last Evening.

Rev. E. C. Little, of Washington, Pa., took as his subject at the First United Presbyterian church last night, the "Sin of Not Doing." He said it was an actual sin, because it was an omission to obey God's commands. It brought down Divine condemnation, the Scriptures citing the penalty for failure to do right. It was a prevalent sin, for many people thought they were all right because they did nothing. The lecture room being too small, the meeting was transferred to the church, where tonight's service will also be held.

LEYMEISTER HAD A GUN

He Pointed It at Joseph Duman Last Night.

DUMAN WAS BADLY FRIGHTENED

And Called on the Police For Assistance. Leymeister Was Arrested but the Revolver Wasn't Loaded When the Police Got It—Annie Jones Was Drunk.

Frank Leymeister was employed as a baker at the shop of A. Galm until about six weeks ago, when he quit. Joseph Duman was engaged to take his place. Last night Leymeister returned, and, going to the shop, addressed hard names to Duman and ended by pointing a revolver at him. Leymeister was arrested by Officer Wood at 11:30 at his room at the corner of Sixth and Jackson streets. The revolver was empty when Officers Davidson and Wood got it. This morning a charge of disorderly conduct was placed against Leymeister and the mayor fined him $24.60.

Annie Jones was found drunk and asleep at the corner of Second and Washington streets this morning at 2:30 o'clock. When searched a half-pint of whisky was found in one stocking and a comb and a curling iron in the other stocking. She had a few hairpins in her pockets. The mayor turned her out this morning.

Dave and Mellville Wooley will call on the mayor this evening and tell how the trouble happened at their house a few evenings ago.

BINGHAM IS "FATHER"

Late Harmer's Mantle Falls to Another Pennsylvanian.

DEEP GLOOM IN THE HOUSE.

Death of Harmer Shocked the Members, Although They Knew He Was In Feeble Health—Tilt Over the Financial Bill Report Occurred.

WASHINGTON, March 8.—The death of Representative Harmer, of Pennsylvania, the "father of the House," cast a deep gloom over the proceedings. Although he was known to be in feeble health, his death came as a shock to his colleagues, by whom he was universally beloved. He was the oldest member of the house, both in length of service and in continuous service. As such it was his duty to swear in the incoming speaker at the opening of each congress. His only appearance in the house this session was when he made a special trip from Philadelphia, at the opening of the session in December, to administer the oath to Speaker Henderson. He was then in a feeble condition, and his eyesight was so poor that John T. Chaney, one of the oldest employees of the house, was obliged to prompt him while he read the oath to General Henderson. Mr. Harmer seldom addressed the house during his long term of service, but he was an active committee worker, popular personally, and exercised much influence in a quiet way. His death makes General Henry Bingham, of Pennsylvania, the "father of the House." He began his service in the Forty-sixth congress, and has served continuously for 20 years. Both in length and priority of service Mr. Bingham is exceeded by Mr. Cannon, of Illinois, chairman of the appropriations committee, who was first elected to the Forty-third congress, and who is serving his thirteenth term, but his term was not continuous, he having failed of re-election in the Fifty-second congress.

Mr. Grow, of Pennsylvania, the venerable speaker, is the oldest member. He first came to congress in 1851, but there was a long hiatus in his service from 1863 to 1865. The distinction of "father of the house" belongs to him who has served longest in continuous service.

Mr. Harmer's desk was draped in black and covered with flowers. The blind chaplain, in his invocation, referred feelingly to the loss the house and the country had sustained. Upon the request of Mr. Mann, of Illinois, in charge of the Aldrich-Robinson contested election case, which was to have been voted upon, the vote was postponed until today, to allow the house to adjourn out of respect to Mr. Harmer's memory.

Mr. Overstreet, of Indiana, in charge of the conference report upon the financial bill, presented the report to the house and said he would call up the report at the earliest possible moment.

Mr. Richardson announced that the minority would demand time to debate the report. "There is very little new in it," said Mr. Overstreet, "practically nothing except the re-funding provision."

"Certainly the bimetallic amendment is new," observed Mr. Richardson.

"That is of little importance," replied Mr. Overstreet.

"The gentleman admits it is unimportant?"

"I frankly say I consider it of little importance," reiterated Mr. Overstreet.

"We want to show that," retorted Mr. Richardson, who, continuing, said the minority would ask for four hours. Without agreeing to that the matter went over.

Mr. Bingham (Pa.) then announced the death of Mr. Harmer. His beloved colleague, he said, was of right recognized as the "father of the house," but he was more than that. He was the father of the house in the affection and high regard in which he was held by the members of the body. He died in the same community in which he was born, and among the people who, for more than half a century, loved and honored him personally and held him in such high esteem and confidence that only death could sever their close relations. He was one of a marked group of four men whom the city of Philadelphia sent to the American congress—men most exceptional in their usefulness and years of service to the people of their home constituencies as well as their state and nation.

The names of those four members whose record today belongs to the whole country, and for whose memory the people of Philadelphia have special affection, Mr. Bingham said, are Judge W. D. Kelley, who was elected to 16 congresses and served 25 years; Mr. Chas. O'Neill, who was elected to 15 congresses and served 28 years; Mr. Samuel J. Randall, who was elected to 14 congresses and served 27 years, and Mr. Harmer, likewise elected to 14 congresses, and served 27 years—in all, 119 years of service given by these four distinguished dead—a record unparalleled in the history of the country.

Mr. Bingham then offered the customary resolutions of regret and the speaker appointed the following funeral committee: Messrs. Bingham, Adams, Young, McAleer, Dalzell, Brosius, Wanger and Butler, of Pennsylvania; Ketcham (N. Y.), McCleary (Minn.), Babcock (Wis.), Richardson (Tenn.), Catchings (Miss.), Terry (Ark.) and Fitzgerald (Mass.).

As a further mark of respect the house adjourned.

MAKE NO PROMISES

TO THE FILIPINOS.

Lodge Advised Abandoning the Islands Squarely or Meet Each Problem as it Arises.

WASHINGTON, March 8.—The senate seldom accorded to any of its members a greater compliment than it gave to Mr. Lodge, of Massachusetts, on the occasion of the announcement of his speech on the Philippine question. The speech drew to the senate every senator now in the city and to the galleries an unusually large number of auditors.

Mr. Lodge's speech was based upon the bill introduced by Mr. Spooner (Wis.), vesting in the president authority to govern the Philippines until congress should otherwise provide by legislation.

When he had concluded he was overwhelmed with congratulations from both sides of the chamber.

Soon after Mr. Lodge had concluded the senate adjourned in respect to the memory of the late Representative Harmer of Pennsylvania.

Following is an abstract of Senator Lodge's speech:

He declared it would be a great mistake at this time to undertake any far-reaching legislation dealing with the Philippines. The president, he said, should be authorized to control the islands, and our position should be clearly defined. He deprecated making a party issue of the Philippines. He had been unable to discover what policy his political opponents proposed. The resolutions offered by senators on the other side present no policy, but invite us to make promises. Promises are neither action nor policy, and in the form of legislation are a grave mistake. Those which involve us in pledges of independence have the additional disadvantage of being the one sure means of keeping alive war and disorder in the islands. If we must abandon the Philippines, let us abandon them frankly. If we mean to turn them over to domestic anarchy or foreign control, let us do it squarely. If we are to retain them, let us deal manfully with the problems as they arise.

We accept the fact that the Philippine islands are ours today, and that we are responsible for them before the world. The next fact is that there is a war in these islands, which, with its chief in hiding and no semblance of a government, has now degenerated into mere guerrilla fighting and brigandage. Our immediate duty, therefore, is to suppress this disorder, put an end to fighting and restore peace and order. That is what we are doing. That is all we are called upon to do in order to meet the demands of the living present. Beyond this we ought not to go by a legislative act, except to make such provision that there may be no delay in re-establishing civil government when the war ends.

Mr. Lodge quoted official documents and correspondence in support of his contention that Dewey entered into no political entanglements with Aguinaldo. He denounced as absolutely fictitious all statements that Admiral Dewey saluted the Filipino flag or received Aguinaldo with military honors, or in any way recognized the so-called Filipino government.

Mr. Lodge presented an extract from a letter written by Captain Coghlan, then of the Raleigh, detailing precisely what occurred at Subig bay. Captain Coghlan said:

"I wish to affirm, as strongly as human words can do so, that Aguinaldo's people did not accompany us, and that they took no part whatever in that capture. No one but the admiral, Lieutenant Brumby, Captain Walker and myself even knew where we were to go. We left at midnight, without lights of any kind, not even signalling, as usual, for permission to get under way, and no one knew, except the flagship and a vessel or two near us, that the vessels (Raleigh and Concord) had moved from their berths. It was not known until next morning that we had gone out of sight of our fleet. At this very time the so-called gunboat of Aguinaldo was anchored at Cavite, and did not learn of our departure until next day about noon. We captured Grande island about 10:30 a. m. July 7, and no Filipino boat of any description appeared about Subig bay until that evening about 7 o'clock, when the boat we had left at Cavite came in and expressed the greatest surprise at our capture, telling us they had hoped to take part in the attack."

Senator Lodge upheld the president's policy, saying it was "at once courageous, wise and patriotic." He asserted that the islands under American administration would become self-supporting and drew a picture of the commercial possibilities of the Philippines and of the advantage they would be to the United States not only on account of their own fertility and richness of resource, but because they are the gateway for this country to the trade of the Orient.

MASON'S BOER RESOLUTION.

Said He Would Call It Up Today—Complains of Delay.

WASHINGTON, March 8.—In the senate, Mr. Mason (Ill.) gave notice that today, after the morning hour, he would enter a motion that the committee on foreign relations be discharged from further consideration of his resolution expressive of the senate's sympathy for the Boers in their struggle with Great Britain. He had, he said, introduced the resolution on Dec. 6 and it had been in the hands of the committee ever since.

"I have no intention of violating the rules of the senate," said Mr. Mason, "but it is clearly the intention of the committee on foreign relations to take no action in regard to the resolution and I want it brought into the senate and placed on the calendar."

"The committee could give us a report if it would. If a majority of the committee is opposed to the resolution, let them report it adversely."

"That would be making some progress. I am satisfied that 95 per cent of the people of the country are in sympathy with the Boers in their war with Great Britain, and I am just as certain that a majority of this body would favor the resolution I introduced. It is the merest child's play for us to sit here and not be able to get a vote upon it."

West Virginia Republicans.

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., March 8.—The State League of Republican clubs was addressed today by Senator Thurston, of Nebraska, and Senators Elkins and Scott, of West Virginia.

PHELPS GRADUALLY SINKING.

His Physician Would Not Predict How Long He Would Live.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., March 8.—Dr. Charles A. Foote, the physician in attendance upon E. J. Phelps, ex-Minister to England, gave out the following statement:

"The condition of the patient is the same as it has been for several days, plus a gradual failing strength. There are no more complications than one would expect. Professor Phelps has been blessed with a very strong constitution, but he is now so well along in years that he has no reserve strength upon which to draw. The disease has taken so strong a hold upon him that he is now suffering from a slow, progressive decline, against which I do not know how long he will be able to hold out."

SECRETARY ROOT IN CUBA.

The Secretary of War Saluted by the Guns of Cabanas Fortress.

HAVANA, March 8.—Secretary Root arrived here on board the United States transport Sedgwick. Governor General Wood and all the division staff, and the Department of Havana staff were conveyed to the transport by the quarter-master's tug and escorted the party ashore. He was received by a salute from the guns of Cabanas fortress.

Soldiers to Wear Shamrocks.

LONDON, March 8.—An army order issued announced that the queen ordered that in future on St. Patrick's day all ranks of her Irish regiments shall wear as a distinction a sprig of shamrock in their head dress, to commemorate the gallantry of her Irish soldiers in the recent battles in South Africa.

Big Fire at Natrona, Pa.

PITTSBURGH, March 8.—The store of the Pennsylvania Salt Manufacturing company, at Natrona, was destroyed by fire last night. The loss will amount to $40,000 on the stock and $15,000 on the building. The origin of the fire is a mystery.

Boardman Shaw Dead.

MORRISVILLE, Vt., March 8.—Boardman Shaw, father of Governor Shaw, of Iowa, died at his home here, aged 84 years.

WELL DRESSED MEN.

ORDER OF THE CITIES IN WHICH THEY MOST ABOUND.

An Expert Says Denver Heads the List, With San Francisco Second, Chicago Third, Washington Fourth, and New York Trails Along Fifth.

"I'd probably be discharged, mobbed and have all sorts of things happen to me if I said this over in the big town, but I can name you at least four American cities the men of which are better dressed year in and year out than the men of New York," said a man who travels for a New York merchant tailor's supply house and whose territory is the whole continent. "I'll name them in the order of their standing as communities inhabited by the best dressed men: Denver, San Francisco, Chicago and Washington. How do I figure it? Just according to the rule of sight, that's all. I don't profess to know much about Egyptology, but I do know a well dressed man when I see him."

"Mind, I don't say that all of the men of those four cities are better dressed than all of the men of New York, but I do maintain and say any impartial man who knows the four towns mentioned as they are now will uphold me in maintaining that in ratio to their respective populations the men of Denver, San Francisco, Chicago and Washington are very much better dressed than are the men of New York. Of course this has been the case only in very recent years. New York was until, say, five years ago away ahead of all its rivals as a city of the best dressed men. At that time if you wanted to see hundreds of perfectly dressed and perfectly groomed men engaged in doing business all you had to do was to take an elevated train up town in the neighborhood of 10 o'clock in the morning and watch the men, young, middle aged and old, who boarded the train for the downtown financial district."

"Of course you'll still see slews of thoroughly got up men down in the financial district of New York, but not so many by 75 per cent as formerly. On show occasions, such as Easter Sunday afternoon, New York will still turn out a finely clad batch of men, but I'm not talking about show occasions now. I'm talking about men who are well clad year in and year out, and it is in this respect that New York has fallen into the 'also ran' list."

"When you meet up town in New York a genuinely swagger man—not a flashily dressed man, but one who is thoroughly and properly rigged out from his hat to his shoes—you are liable to turn around to get a rear view of him, and then the fact is liable to be slowly borne in upon you that he is some member of a theatrical profession whom you have seen upon the stage. There are still plenty of flashily dressed men circulating around New York, but a flashily dressed man never will be a well dressed man."

"The reason why the men of Denver are such a well dressed lot isn't entirely clear to me. It can't be especially because there are so many well off men in that town, because there are myriads of well off men in New York. Maybe it is because, in proportion to the population, there are probably more men with large incomes in Denver than in any city on the continent, not excepting Helena, that used to bear that distinction. You scarcely ever see a badly dressed or an over-dressed man in Denver. Shabby men there are in plenty, of course, but I don't call a shabby man a badly dressed man. A badly dressed man is one who, while having plenty of means to equip himself with a good make up, hasn't the taste to do it and therefore makes his appearance as a slouch—that's the word for it—slouch. A shabby man is simply a man who is on his uppers and makes no pretensions."

"The clerks and other men of very moderate incomes in Denver, men who can't afford to 'keep in the push' as far as correct dressing goes, don't make any effort whatever to tog themselves out in cheap, dismal imitation of the men with plenty of money; but, like the young woman in the song, 'they always dress in black.' The business men who run plants of their own, however, seem to pay just as much attention to the job of getting themselves ready for business on weekday mornings as they do to the task of arraying themselves for social functions or evening appearances."

"Easterners who have gone out to the coast have often commented upon the swiftness of the average well fixed

San Francisco man in the matter of clothes. The San Francisco man with an income certainly gets himself up 'proper,' as we say, and he's got the right kind of a make up for every occasion. Take the race tracks around San Francisco, for example. Every man who goes to the races out there goes in a regular racing rig, from paddock coat to fieldglass and from the top of his flat crowned derby to the soles of his 'downs' boots, and so do the Frisco women, for the matter of that. Another thing, I'll venture to assert that nine out of ten men in San Francisco whose incomes are $2,000 a year or over rig out in evening clothes every night in the year, summer included. A great many more men of moderate incomes in Washington don evening clothes than men of similar incomes in New York. The men of Washington dress with singular neatness, many with notable elegance. The excellence of the Washington average, I suppose, is to be accounted for by the absence of a large laboring class here."

Chinese Leather.

The process by which the Chinese leather acquires its peculiar characteristics is described as follows:

The skins are put into tubs containing water, saltpeter and salt and after 30 days are taken out, the hair is shaved off and the skins well washed in spring water. Each hide is then cut up into three pieces and well steamed, which is done by passing them several times backward and forward over a steaming oven. Further, each piece is stretched out separately over a flat board and secured with nails, so as to dry gradually and thoroughly in the sun. The smoke of the oven makes the leather black, and if it is desired to have it of a yellow appearance it is rubbed over with water in which the fruit of the so called wongchee tree has been soaked.

Of the offal glue is made by heating it in pans for 12 hours over a slow fire, and the glue so obtained is poured into rough earthen vessels, where it remains three days in order to coagulate. The solid mass is cut into pieces with sharp knives and carefully laid upon gratinglike trays to dry, the time taken in drying varying from 5 days, with a northwest wind, to 30 or 40 days with a southwest. —Boston Transcript.

The Land of the Guitar.

In Portugal men play upon the guitar as naturally as Yankees whistle. The peasants are universally given to the instrument, chiefly as an accompaniment to the voice. In towns and villages the artisans are often expert guitar players and walk in groups to and from their work, enlivening the journey with music and song. The carpenter who comes to your house to execute a small job brings his guitar with his tools, and the blacksmith is a far better performer on the guitar than the anvil.

When the Portuguese day laborer or workman has finished his long day's toil, he does not hie him to a winery to squander the few cents he has earned; he does not even lean against a post and smoke or whittle a stick while swapping yarns with his fellows. If he did not bring his guitar with him, he goes straight home and gets it, rests and comforts himself with the music while supper is being prepared. Afterward he spends the evening singing doggerel songs to a strumming accompaniment, tilted back in a chair against his own house or on the doorstep of a neighbor. —Philadelphia Record.

His Paraphrase.

"You often see the phrase 'Memphis, the Queen of the Valley, God bless her,'" remarked a newspaper man the other day. "The birth of that expression was the wherefore of one of the wittiest things Ned Carmack ever said. 'It was in the lifetime of The Appeal-Avalanche and while Mr. Carmack was editor of The Commercial. There was a municipal election of minor importance on hand, and the editor of The Avalanche was just 'happy' enough to do a two column editorial of gush concerning the life and death issues of the election under the sentimental headline 'Memphis, the Queen of the Valley, God Bless Her!'"

"Mr. Carmack came out in the morning paper with no other comment on the all important subject under consideration than this epigram, which completely covered the case and made the phrase immortal. 'Blank, the fool of the Valley, God help him!'" —Memphis Scimitar.

UNION LABELS

It should be a deep-rooted principle of all union workmen and union sympathizers, and particularly those members of the different organizations of East Liverpool, to buy nothing but Union Label goods, in preference to all others. And why not? If we ask fair wages for our labor, why should we buy goods made at unfair wages by others?

The Union Label in every industry is a guarantee of fair wages, decent working hours, and union labor employed.

UNION PAPERS.

All Union papers of East Liverpool are known to the various craft and unions of the city by the printing of the above Union Labels at the head of their columns.

PATRONIZE UNION CLERKS.

All members of the R. C. A. P. A. can show this card for it when making their purchases.

COLOR IS CHANGED EACH QUARTER.

UNION MADE BOOTS AND SHOES.

The Boot and Shoe Workers' union is the national head of the trade, and is a new combination of all the branches of boot and shoe workers. The above trade-mark when found on the sole or lining of a boot or shoe, is a guarantee that the same is made by union labor. Look for the above design stamped on the sole of every pair of boots or shoes you buy.

CUSTOM TAILORS' LABEL.

The Journeymen Tailors' Label is to be found in the inside breast pocket of the coat, on the under side of the buckle strap of the vest, and on the waistband lining of the pants. It is printed in black ink on white linen.

UNION MADE CLOTHING.

You will find the linen label attached by machine stitching to the inside breast pocket of the coat, on the inside of the buckle strap of the vest, and on the waistband lining of the pants.

BICYCLE LABEL.

"Do unto others as ye would that others should do unto you." You will endorse the "Golden Rule" by buying and riding bicycles bearing this Label. The colors are as follows: The Union shield is in red, white and blue, on a background of pea green, bordered by gold. The Label will be placed on the upper front side of the saddle that receives the seat post.

UNION BREAD AND CRACKERS.

This is a full size facsimile of the Label of the Bakers' and Confectioners' union. It is printed on fine white paper and is pasted on each loaf of union-made bread. It is an evidence that the bread is made under fair and wholesome conditions, and in clean and healthy bakeries. Following is the confectioners' and cracker Label:

Lady Churchill's Patriotic Retort.

Lady Churchill has inherited the wit of her father, as she demonstrated up on one occasion to an eminent British politician. He was somewhat annoyed at the campaign she had made and said:

"I really don't understand, Lady Churchill, why or how it is that American ladies refuse to enter political life in their own country, but overwhelm us here in England."

"That is because you have never traveled in the United States. The men there are so intelligent and patriotic that they do not require the services of our sex as an educating force."

15TH YEAR. NO. 227.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., THURSDAY, MARCH 8, 1900.

TWO CENTS

BOERS PUT TO FLIGHT

LEFT A GUN, FORAGE AND TENTS.

French Reported That the Horse Batteries Did Great Execution Among the Burghers—British Casualties About 50. Lieutenant Keswick Killed.

LONDON, March 8.—The war office posted the following advices from Lord Roberts;

"POPULAR GROVE, Wednesday, March 7.—Evening.—We had a very successful day and have completely routed the enemy, who are in full retreat.

"The position which they occupied is extremely strong and cunningly arranged with a second line of intrenchments, which would have caused us

British at Dundee and also ammunition were abandoned.

The chief difficulty was in dismounting "Long Tom."

The Boers were independent of the railway, as is shown by the fact that not one of their 2,000 wagons went by rail. All travel in the byway road together with the field batteries. Only big guns, the infantry and the wounded went by rail.

When the last train had left Elands-laagte a workmen's train followed, carefully blowing up bridges and culverts between Ladysmith and Glencoe and, when this had been done, setting fire to the Elands-laagte collieries. Thus the British, with Natal's southernmost collieries in their hands, are unable to draw supplies therefrom.

Under cover of the night, and with the collieries sending lurid flames to heaven, the bullock wagons wound over the hills, making roads where none before existed, and the four months' siege of Ladysmith was raised.

CRONJE TO ST. HELENA.

British Decide to Send Him and Other Boer Prisoners to the Island.

LONDON, March 8.—The military authorities have decided that General Cronje and the other Boer prisoners shall be sent immediately to the island of St. Helena, there to remain until the end of the war.

Lord Roberts has chosen Lord Bathurst, colonel of a militia regiment at the front, to command the escort to St. Helena, which was last month placed in cable communication with Cape Town and London.

It is also asserted that the cabinet has resolved neither to propose nor to entertain a proposal at the present juncture for exchange of prisoners.

TO REIMBURSE BUSHNELL.

Ohio Senate Passed Bill to Pay Him and McLean For the Fourth's Expenses.

COLUMBUS, O., March 8.—The senate passed the Dodge bill, appropriating money to pay the expenses of the Fourth Ohio regiment and unattached companies which went to New York to participate in the Dewey celebration.

It was understood during the campaign that John R. McLean and Governor Bushnell were to advance the money for expenses of the Fourth, but under the provisions of this bill, these gentlemen will now be reimbursed.

SUSPECTED PLAGUE CASE.

Suspicious as to the Cause of a Chinaman's Death in San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 8.—A case of what is supposed to be bubonic plague, though the exact nature of the disease is yet uncertain, has been discovered in Chinatown. The victim, who was a Chinaman, living at 1004 Dupont street, died, and the whole of Chinatown has been placed under strict quarantine.

The physicians are not yet prepared to make a definite statement, but others who have had experience say the case will hardly prove to be plague, as the dead man had long been a resident of this city.

NEW BANKS TO BE STARTED.

Many National Institutions Will Be Set Up on Very Small Capital.

NEW YORK, March 8.—Advices received by local banking interests from small towns throughout the United States indicate that state banks in all sections of the country are preparing to take out charters under the national system as soon as the currency bill becomes a law.

One man from a western town told a bank officer that he expected to start eight banks, with a capital of $25,000. Reports of similar preparations in other sections of the country led to a prediction by an officer of one of the best known banks that fully 2,000 national charters would be applied for after existing restrictions were modified.

Negroes Ordered Mustered Out.

HARRISBURG, March 8.—An order was issued from national guard headquarters ordering the muster out of the Gray Invincibles of Philadelphia, the only organization of colored troops in the guard, because it is inefficient and in an unsatisfactory condition and had been recommended for disbandment by the inspector.

RIVERS OUT OF BANKS.

Streams in Northern Ohio Flooded—Serious Damage at Some Places. Bridge Destroyed.

CLEVELAND, March 8.—Telegrams from various points in Northern Ohio indicated that great damage was being done by floods.

At Fremont the Sandusky river overflowed its banks and submerged the lower part of the town. Cellars of business houses were filled with water and many factories were compelled to close down.

At Warren the Mahoning river reached the danger point and the lower part of the town was flooded. Much damage resulted at Massillon owing to the Tuscarawas river overflowing its banks.

The Grand river, at Painesville, was out of its banks and a serious flood was feared.

The bridge of the Sandusky, Milan and Norwalk electric road, at Milan, was washed away and much other damage done.

Rocky river was on a rampage at Berea, where 200 acres were submerged and the water was still rising.

FIRE LOSS OVER $700,000.

Conflagration in Retail Drygoods District in Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, March 8.—A fire entailing an estimated loss of over $700,000 occurred in the retail drygoods district. The conflagration originated in the engine room of Shoneman Brothers' drygoods and millinery store at Eighth and Arch streets.

The loss is placed at $300,000. Marks Brothers, dry goods store, adjoining, was partially damaged by smoke and water and their store house was completely gutted, entailing an estimated loss of $300,000.

The flames spread to the building on Cherry street occupied by Myerhoff Brothers, manufacturers of women's and children's clothing, and the Philadelphia Electrical Equipment company. Nothing was left of this place but the walls. The loss is placed at $200,000.

Several smaller buildings were more or less seriously damaged.

AN AWE-INSPIRING SIGHT.

Sovereign Read His Description of Dynamiting, in Idaho Strike.

WASHINGTON, March 8.—James R. Sovereign, former grand master workman of the Knights of Labor, resumed his testimony at the Couer d'Alene investigation before the house committee on military affairs.

The members of the committee cross-examined Mr. Sovereign at considerable length. Representative Hull again took him over the assembling of miners on the morning the mill was blown up. The witness said it was evident there was some preconcerted action. At Mr. Hull's request Mr. Sovereign read an article in the paper edited by him on "Bunker Hill destroyed; 1,000 determined men wreak vengeance on the scab mine."

The article said that half of the 1,000 men were masked and armed with Winchester rifles, and described the awe inspiring scenes as 3,000 pounds of dynamite were placed under the mine concentrator, one of the largest in the world, and it was completely wrecked after three terrific explosions.

THE LABOR WAR IN CHICAGO.

Building Contractors Announce Their Determination to Reject Arbitration.

CHICAGO, March 8.—Apparent hope of a settlement in the near future of the differences between the unions affiliated with the building trades council and the contractors were dissipated when the building contractors' council made a declaration that no opportunity to arbitrate will be afforded by that body no matter what pressure may be brought to bear by the industrial commission soon to meet here.

NO COMPROMISE OF SUIT.

Carnegie Attorneys Deny That Any Peace Negotiations Are On.

PITTSBURG, March 8.—President O. M. Schwab, of the Carnegie Steel company, limited, arrived here from New York, where he had been conferring with Andrew Carnegie for several days. It is now learned that the answer of the Carnegie company will not be filed until early next week.

A DAY IN WALL STREET.

Dealings Approached the Point of Stagnation—Movement of Prices Without Significance.

NEW YORK, March 8.—Professional bear operators suspended their campaign for a decline in the stock market Wednesday. The bull contingent, on the other hand, was hampered by the continually increasing closer conditions in the money market and by the determined indifference of the outside public.

In consequence, dealing on the Exchange approached the point of stagnation, and the movement of prices was entirely without significance.

CASUALTIES OF BULLER'S ARMY.

The Total Losses in the Campaign to Ladysmith Reached 1,859.

LONDON, March 8.—Another list of the casualties sustained by General Buller's army from Feb. 14 to Feb. 27 shows: Killed, 123; wounded, 573; missing, 54. Of these the losses of the Inniskillings were as follows: Killed, 54; wounded, 163; missing, 23; Dublin Fusiliers, killed, 15; wounded, 97; missing, 18. Connaught Rangers, killed, 19; wounded, 105; missing, 8. Royal Irish Fusiliers, killed, 11; wounded, 63; missing, 2. Scots Fusiliers, killed, 18; wounded, 68; missing, 0. With the list of casualties issued Monday this makes the total cost to the rank and file in the final relief of Ladysmith 1,859 men.

MISS WHEELER NOT ENGAGED.

She Denied the Report—The General's Reception.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 8.—General Wheeler and daughter were landed in this city. He said he resigned from the army before congress met, so his seat could not be affected.

His daughter denied she was engaged to be married. It was reported she was to marry Lieutenant Fiscus, of Pennsylvania.

Third Death May Result.

PITTSBURG, March 8.—It is not unlikely that a third death will occur as a result of the collapse of the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago railroad bridge across Robinson street. James F. Martin, the conductor of the ill-fated train, whose body was frightfully scalded, lies at the point of death in the Allegheny General hospital, though there is yet a ray of hope that he will recover.

Samoa Treaty Ratifications Exchanged.

WASHINGTON, March 8.—The ratifications of the Samoan treaty were exchanged at the state department by Secretary Hay for the United States, Lord Pauncefote for Great Britain and Dr. Von Holleben for Germany. The treaty submits the claims to the arbitration of King Oscar, of Sweden.

Brothers Indicted For Murder.

MEDIA, Pa., March 8.—The grand jury found true bills of indictment against James Pierce and Amos, alias "Pinny" Pierce, his brother, charging them with the murder of George B. Eyre, of Chester, on Dec. 21 of last year. The trial of the cases has been postponed until the June term.

Bowed Down to Freedman.

NEW YORK, March 8.—The baseball magnates did practically nothing at their meeting. It developed that some time ago the fine in the Ducky Holmes case was remitted to him with 6 per cent interest.

WEATHER FORECAST.

Ohio—Fair today; warmer in northern portion; partly cloudy and warmer tomorrow; variable winds.

Western Pennsylvania—Fair today. Tomorrow fair; warmer; variable winds.

Wealthy man Suicided.

NEW YORK, March 8.—Conrad H. Abeiman, a wealthy retired produce merchant, 50 years old, committed suicide at his home in Brooklyn. He had suffered from nervous prostration for months.

FIVE RESCUED ALIVE

Seriously Injured Taken From Red Ash Mine.

29 DEAD BODIES ARE SECURED.

Estimates of the Number Who Perished Placed at 50, 60 and Even 70—List of Known Dead—Speculation as to Cause. Number of Funerals Held.

FIRE CREEK, W. Va., March 8.—The rescuing parties continued working hard at Red Ash mine in removing the debris and securing the bodies of the victims of the explosion.

The scenes of distress among those hunting their missing friends are still as appalling as the day before. The work at the mine continued night and day, and it was still impossible to give the exact number of the victims or to identify all of the bodies that have been recovered. The most conservative estimates of some of those connected with the mine places the number of killed at 52, and there are others who insist that the number of victims will be found to reach 60.

A report from the rescuers at the mine was that 34 had been taken out, 29 being dead and five seriously injured. Those rescued alive are: Carl Downey, John L. Day, Joseph Elliott, John Kane and Harry Dawson. While the surviving miners and others estimate that there are at least 39 miners entombed, General Manager Howell says there are still in the mine only 36. The estimate of the latter would indicate that there were 70 killed and five injured, and it is conceded that all of those still in the mine are dead.

None of the mines in this district were yet working, and thousands of people visited the scene of the Red Ash disaster. Some of the dead bodies have been shipped to the former homes of the victims. Many funerals were held here Wednesday and many will be held today.

No definite cause for the explosion has yet been learned by Governor Atkinson, the state and district mine inspectors and others who are investigating the cause. In addition to the theories of dust, fire damp, etc., it was claimed that natural gas escaped into the mine and that it ignited when the miners entered with their lighted lamps. The work of rescuing parties is retarded by hot air and it is thought the mine is on fire. Air is being pumped into the mine by compression. It will probably be several days before all the bodies can be recovered, as they are scattered along for almost a mile under the ground and it will require much time to clear the debris from this long subterranean course.

The following bodies of the victims of the Red Ash disaster were removed from the mine:

Simon Fitts.
Neville Ramsey.
Ed. Hamrick (white), aged 12.
Volley Agery.
John Stone.
Bob Hall.
Smith Franklin.
Hollister Noell.
Isaac Morris.
N. Dewes (colored).

The body of a white man, as yet not identified, was also rescued.

It is discovered that there were three more men in the mine than were known of Tuesday—Isaac Morris, Walter Dennis, and a man whose name is not known, all colored.

VAUGHN DIED AFTER OPERATION.

Four Deaths From the Missouri Pacific Wreck—Another May Die.

KANSAS CITY, March 8.—W. R. Vaughn, the Cincinnati newspaper man, who was injured in the Missouri Pacific wreck at Independence a week ago, died at the University hospital, after an operation on his arm. This makes four deaths as a result of the wreck.

Vaughn was 30 years old and unmarried. W. R. Vaughn, a Washington newspaper man, is his father.

Mrs. J. Balke, a relative of Mrs. and Miss Schridtclapp, of Cincinnati, who were killed in the wreck, is still in a critical condition.

"The turning movement was necessarily wide, owing to the nature of the ground, and the cavalry and horse artillery horses are much done up.

"The fighting was practically confined to the cavalry division, which, as usual, did exceedingly well, and General French reports that the horse artillery batteries did great execution among the enemy.

"Our casualties were about 50. I regret to say that Lieutenant Keswick was killed and Lieutenant Bailey was severely wounded, both of the Twelfth Lancers. Lieutenant De Crespigny, of the Second Life Guards, was severely wounded. Remaining casualties will be telegraphed tomorrow.

"Generals Dewet and Delarey commanded the Boer forces."

OSFONTEIN, March 8.—Lord Roberts' force advanced early Tuesday morning. General French turned the southern part of the position of the Boers, who fled incontinently, leaving a gun, immense quantities of forage and their tents. He is now in pursuit.

The Boers on the north bank are also evacuating the position.

COMMANDANT'S MISTAKE.

Boer Report Said It Resulted in the Raising of the Siege of Ladysmith.

BOER CAMP, Biggarsberg, March 8.—The federals have fallen back on the Biggarsberg chain that crosses Natal, south of Dundee. The retreat from Ladysmith was due to a mistake of a certain commandant in ordering his men to retire from the key of the position without any reason for the move.

On the receipt of the bad news from the Modder river it was resolved to send the wagons back to Biggarsberg, and soon long strings of ox wagons lined the roads. Over 1,000 wagons took the westerly route to the laager southwest of Ladysmith. Another convoy was sent to the foot of the Drakensberg. A large number of tents captured from the

JAMES N. RUSSELL,

A WELL-KNOWN BUSINESS MAN, PASSED AWAY.

Salt Well to Be Established on Allison Farm—W. C. Johnson to Be Census Enumerator.

Dr. James Nelson Russell, aged 56, died at his home in Chester yesterday afternoon after a short illness. Congestion of the brain was the cause of his death, although he was completely paralyzed when he died.

Dr. Russell was born and raised in Virginia. He moved with his family to Chester in April, 1897, coming from Mason county, in the southern part of the state. He was the father of four children, two boys and two girls. Russell was well acquainted with Devil Anse Hatfield. A few weeks ago Russell said he intended to go back to Mason county during the spring and spend a few weeks with Hatfield, as they had arranged to go hunting in the mountains.

Doctor Russell was a Mason, belonging to the lodge at Mason City, W. Va. It is likely the services will be in charge of the Masons of Chester.

He owned a third interest in the Chester Drug company.

The remains will be taken by boat to Mason City tomorrow evening for interment.

JOHNSON APPOINTED

Census Enumerator of Grant District. Population Expected to Reach 2,300.

Justice of the Peace Washington O. Johnson, of the Grant district, will be appointed census enumerator of that district. A few days ago Johnson received a letter from Hon. Harvey W. Harmer, of Olarksburg, W. Va., stating that his application and recommendations had been carefully examined and the "papers" were not surpassed by any applicant for the position in the First congressional district of West Virginia, which is composed of the eleven northern counties.

The Grant district is bounded on the east and south by the Pennsylvania state line, on the north by the Ohio river, and on the west by the Poe district. Fronting on the river the district extends from the state line to Mahans. In 1890 the census of the district was taken by Johnson. The population was then 1,121, and this year Johnson expects to see that number doubled. He will receive from $4 to $6 a day and also 15 cents for every farm listed.

A SALT WELL.

One May Be Opened on the Margaret Allison Farm.

Charles Allison and Harry Mercer have approached O. A. Heck relative to the purchasing of the latter's well on the Margaret Allison farm. A vein of salt has been located, and the men who desire to get this particular well claim that salt can be taken out in paying quantities. It is said that Heck is willing to sell.

Among the Sick.

Lincoln Allison is quite ill at his home in Chester, suffering with an attack of pneumonia.

Mrs. Plotts, who has been very ill at her home on Caroline avenue for several weeks, has recovered.

John McClure is very low with fever at his home on the Huff farm. It is feared by his friends that he cannot recover.

Toll Collector Sick.

Toll Collector Todd is confined to his home on Fourth street with an attack of grip. His son is now looking after the office.

For a spring suit go to F. Laufberger's.

AFTER A SITE.

REPRESENTATIVES OF THE WHEEL COMPANY

Are Coming to East End--A Poultry Farm to Be Established in the Suburb.

Alex. Chaffin, of East End, is in receipt of a letter from the Portsmouth Wheel company, located at Washington Court House. Mr. Chaffin would not give out the contents of the letter, but said that matters were very favorable for the company to locate their plant in the East End, and that probably next week representatives of the company would be in the suburb to look after available manufacturing sites. Every influence will be used to have the company come to East End, inasmuch as they employ a large amount of skilled labor.

POULTRY FARM.

One Will Be Established in East End Soon.

A poultry farm is to be established in the East End within the next few weeks and the details of the new industry, if it could be called such, are now being arranged. The farm will be owned by W. S. Burton, of Fallsburg, Ky., and John Jackson, of East End. Burton is now in the suburb conferring with Jackson and will leave for his southern home Friday evening. Next week he will ship, if they can be secured, 500 chickens to Jackson and he will open the "barn yard." Several good sized lots are being considered on which the farm will be established, but no lease has been made.

Changed Shops.

Edward MacKintosh, a printer at the Laughlin China Co.'s old plant, has been transferred to the new pottery in the East End. The change was made yesterday afternoon and three girls who worked with MacKintosh were also transferred to the new works. All the employees of the old plant are gradually being moved to the new works and new labor is being placed in the old pottery.

Among the Sick.

The condition of Harvey Haslett, who has been quite ill at his home near Dry Run for several weeks, is unchanged.

There is no change in the condition of Benjamin Heckathorne, who is ill at his home in Helana.

A New Walk.

John Spence, who has charge of the East End streets, is now employed in constructing a cinder path from the potteries fronting along the railroad to Mulberry street. This is something that has been long needed.

Three Months of School.

Superintendent Grant McDade, of the Neville institute, stated yesterday that the institute would close about June 1. The institute has nine months of school.

Another New House.

Alex. Chaffin, East End, will commence the erection of a new house on Erie street within the next few weeks. Plans have been prepared.

Repaired the Crossing.

The railroad crossing at Mulberry street was repaired yesterday. It has been in a bad condition for some weeks.

Moved to East End.

James Brown and family have moved to East End from Louisa, Ky. Their effects arrived Tuesday.

Buyer in Town.

Henry J. Dake, purchaser for Antenreith & Sons, Allegheny City, was in our city today visiting various potteries and picking up bargains in the way of novelties.

SEVERAL WELLS

WILL BE DRILLED IN ST. CLAIR TOWNSHIP.

Arbuckles Have 1,200 Acres Leased and Intend to Start Drilling Next Week.

The Arbuckles of Pittsburg, who have 1,200 acres of land leased in and around St. Clair township will commence to drill for oil or gas very soon. The first well will be down on the Dan Johnson farm and the drilling machinery will be hauled to that farm the first of next week. It is the intention of the parties to thoroughly develop the territory and several wells will be put down. St. Clair citizens are somewhat excited over the affair, and it is probable a number of people will put down wells on their own land.

SAD SEQUEL

To the Death of Walter Perdue, a Railroader Well Known Here.

ALLIANCE, March 8.—[Special]—There is a sad sequel to the death of Walter Perdue, who was killed on the Cleveland and Pittsburg road about two weeks ago. He was engaged to Miss Artie Patterson, of Alliance, and the shock so terribly affected the young lady that on Tuesday morning she attempted suicide by swallowing a dose of arsenic. Only the most heroic efforts of the attending physician saved her life. Her family has been very unfortunate of late. Her father has been ill for several years; a brother died of typhoid while serving in Cuba, and another brother was killed on the railroad. The death of her betrothed was the culmination which led her to attempt her own life.

MAKING A CHANGE.

The Dresden Pottery Will Once More Use Gas to Fire All Their Kilns.

It will only be a short time until all the kilns at the Dresden pottery will be fired with gas. The company has decided to dispense with the use of coal as far as possible and the pipes to the kilns are now being put in and the change will be made as soon as possible. The Ohio Valley Gas company will supply the pottery. It is thought to be only a question of a short time until almost all the plants are using gas, as the Ohio Valley company has a plentiful supply of it and there is no danger of a shortage.

ANNUAL MEETING.

The Water Works Trustees Will Finish the Year's Business on March 23.

The annual meeting of the water works trustees will be held Friday evening, March 23. Clerk Gipner will present his annual report of the amount of money collected and expended during the year and Superintendent Morley will present an annual report of the work of the department. It is expected both reports will be very good.

Execution of the Duke d'Enghien.

Colonel Laborde, knowing that the grave was actually dug in which the duke was to be put, after a short time awakened him and told him, if he had a lock of his hair or a letter to send to any of his family, that he (Colonel Laborde) would take care to forward it and would only part with it with his life. The duke replied, "I understand you." He cut off a lock of his hair, wrote a short letter and desired that a confessor might be sent to him. He was soon afterward led out.

Five of the soldiers refused to fire at him. They were immediately shot before his face and their bodies thrown into a ditch. They desired to put a bandage before his eyes. He answered he had looked death in the face before and could face it again. Seventeen soldiers fired at him.

Mme. Bonaparte did everything possible to save the duke. She implored Bonaparte on her knees, holding the skirt of his coat, which was torn off by his violent manner of going from her. She seized the other skirt, which was likewise torn off, and Bonaparte declared he would never go to bed till the duke was dead.

Lucien Bonaparte also exerted himself to the utmost, and, finding he had no success, in a rage took out a watch Bonaparte had given him, dashed it on the ground, breaking it in pieces, and said to his brother, "You will be treated in the same manner!"—"Life of Lady Stanley."

Her Advice.

John Luther Long, the well known author of several successful books and the teller of many charming stories, spent a summer at a resort along the New Jersey coast. On his way to his home there he was obliged to stop over one night at Seabright, and this story is told of his little visit: He was recognized by several people, and when he entered the dining room one of them came forward and asked him to occupy a seat at his table. He was quietly introduced as Mr. Long, and his literary reputation did not enter at all into the presentations. He was placed beside a very beautiful and charming young lady, and after awhile the conversation developed somewhat as follows: "Mr. Long, your name is quite familiar. I have run across it somewhere very recently."

"There are a great many Longs," he said.

"No; but I mean that I have read something somewhere. Oh, yes; I remember. It was a story called 'The Fox Woman.' Do you know who wrote it?"

Mr. Long was blissfully ignorant.

"Yes, I am sure that was it," she said.

"It may be by a relative. What did you think of it?"

$10,000 a Year For Queen Li.

WASHINGTON, March 8.—The senate committee on foreign relations authorized the reporting of an amendment to the diplomatic appropriation bill appropriating $20,000 to be paid to ex-Queen Liliuokalani, and providing for an annual donation of $10,000 to her as long as she may live.

Thomas J. Mooney Dead.

Queen on Streets Today.

LONDON, March 8.—The queen today will drive through certain streets in London. Next winter she expects to visit Ireland.

It isn't the bodily sickness that hurts a man. He could stand that fairly well if his mind were easy. But Americans are busy. They have work to do—plans to make—schemes to execute. They are "plungers." They line up their incomes as soon as they receive them or re-invest them with the idea of increase. They cannot afford to be sick. Sickness is a calamity—a financial calamity as well as a physical one. So the sick man worries, and the more he worries, the sicker he grows.

Worry is a good thing at the right time. The minute you feel a symptom of sickness—worry about it—do something about it—cure yourself. When you begin to feel run-down—when a twinge of rheumatism tells you plainly that your blood is impaired—when you are losing flesh and vitality, go to the nearest drug store and get a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It is the greatest blood purifier and tissue builder on earth. It cures rheumatism and all other blood diseases by curing the cause. It purifies the blood and puts the blood making organs into good, healthy, working order. It tones up the stomach, stirs up the liver, helps the kidneys in their work and puts suffering nerves at rest. It contains no whisky, alcohol, opium or other dangerous drugs and does not, therefore, create a craving for stimulants or narcotics.

James E. Crampton, Esq., of Sharpsburg, Washington Co., Md., writes: "I was in business in Baltimore, and had rheumatism for three months; couldn't walk at all. I tried the best doctors I could get but they did me no good. I took three bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and it cured me sound. I came home to Sharpsburg and there were three cases of different diseases. I advised the patients to use Dr. Pierce's medicine, which they did, and all were cured. I have sold over one hundred dollars' worth of your medicine by telling people how it cured me. You can write to our druggist, Mr. G. F. Smith, in our town and he will tell you what I did for you in regard to selling and advertising your great remedies."

None Other.

There is no other foundation possible for a godly life and happiness than that which is laid in the life and teachings of Jesus of Nazareth. Whatever its crosses and self denials, whatever the privations and persecutions inseparable from the Christian course, there is no other possible road to excellence of moral and spiritual character. Self sacrifice is ever higher in quality and more powerful in soul dynamics than self seeking.

The lower passions may for a time dominate the world and occupy the places of power in commercial, political and social life, may even invade and usurp authority in the church, but so long as God is God and truth is truth so long will the rule of right be more potent than the rule of might. Whatever temporary successes and honors may be won by fraud and deceit, by lust and avarice, by cruelty and oppression, the day of God marches grandly on, and his children can afford to be patient and wait.

"Lo, I have overcome the world," cries the Christ, and in His triumph we may share now and here. Not on the surface lies the safe basis of soul building. Dig deeper than customs and conventionalities of the times and build on bedrock for eternity.

Average Time of a Wink.

"In a twinkling of an eye" is a phrase for brevity, but M. Garten in "The Archives de Pfünger" has found the average time of a wink to be about .40 of a second. The eyelid descends in about .80 of a second, stays down about .13 of a second to .17 of a second and rises again in about .17 of a second. Winking varies much in different persons and rarely occurs when the attention is concentrated, but this omission is followed by a series of winks to make up, either by resting the eye or cleaning it.

FINE AND FIFTEEN DAYS

Cases Against His Wife and Son Nollod. Fine of Sherman Thomas Reduced From $25 and Costs to $10 and Costs—Other Saloon Cases Disposed Of.

LISBON, March 8—[Special]—The following liquor law violations were passed upon yesterday afternoon:

William Mushenheimer, of East End, East Liverpool, indicted for selling liquor on Sunday, was fined $50 and costs and sentenced to 15 days in the county jail.

His wife, Mrs. Kate Mushenheimer and his son, Charles Mushenheimer, also indicted, were not tried, their cases being nollod.

After consideration the court reduced the fine of Sherman Thomas, a minor of East Liverpool, sentenced to a fine of $25 and costs for furnishing liquor to a minor, to $10 and costs.

David Jones, Lisbon, was fined $30 and costs for selling to an habitual.

Edward Hickline, Lisbon, was fined $30 and costs for selling to a minor.

INDIGNANT FATHER.

He Demands That Heartless, Law-Breaking Saloonkeepers Shall Be Punished.

EDITOR NEWS REVIEW—John Ecker, who runs a saloon opposite city hall, East Liverpool, has been furnishing my boy with intoxicating liquor. He and his bartender, a big colored man known as "Jack," have been selling to my boy and to other boys in this city, carrying on their vile work right in front of municipal hall. I secured straight evidence, not hearsay, against these fellows in ten different cases, and could have made it at least twenty more cases. The grand jury at Lisbon found true bills in eight of the cases, and the court finally allowed Ecker to compromise by pleading guilty to four of the cases, giving him the penalty of $65 and costs in each case, and five days in jail in each case.

Fellow citizens, is it not infamous that such a den of villainy and iniquity, controlled and operated by such infamous law-breakers, is permitted to exist in this or any other city? Is it not high time that the "Clark" bill, or some more stringent and far-reaching bill, shall be enacted, in order that we may be rid of such hell holes and such characters as do devil's business behind screened windows and doors. Your boy is not safe, any more than is mine. These drunkard-makers have no conscience, and they have been carrying on their nefarious and illegal traffic under the very noses of the mayor and his officers. Some men assert that Ecker's sentence was a salty one. He should have received the full sentence of the law in each and every one of the eight cases when true bills were found against him, and justice was outraged when this was not done. It is high time that all true men and women of East Liverpool shall unite and drive the saloon from our city. Forbearance has ceased to be a virtue.

Rubbing the back won't cure backache.

A liniment may relieve, but can't cure. Backache comes from the inside, from the kidneys.

Doan's kidney pills get inside.

Here is East Liverpool proof that this is so:

Mr. H. Thompson, of 306 Fourth street, presser at the D. E. McNicol pottery, and resident of East Liverpool for the past 45 years, says: "During my campaign experiences between the years of '61 and '64 I contracted a weakness of the kidneys, and at intervals I had an aching pain across the small of my back and was subject to attacks of muscular rheumatism especially in damp weather. I was frequently so bad that I could scarcely get up when down, and in fact could hardly get around at all. I tried many remedies endeavoring to get rid of my trouble, but found nothing until I got Doan's kidney pills at the W. & W. pharmacy. They filled the bill exactly, giving me almost immediate relief, and warded off the last attack."

Not Absolutely Ignorant.

It is commonly understood that one of the newspapers of New York city has a rule to employ none but college graduates on its staff. It may or it may not be true. Nevertheless a young man of good address, bringing with him excellent recommendations and equipped for journalistic work by several years' experience, called one day at the editorial office of that paper.

He made so good an impression that the managing editor was about to assign him a place on the staff when, as if remembering something he had overlooked in examining the applicant, he suddenly asked:

"By the way, of what college or university are you a graduate?"

"I am not a graduate of any," replied the young man, "but I know better than to write 'pants' for 'trousers,' 'plead' for 'pleaded' and 'he was given a chance' for 'a chance was given him.' I never use the phrase 'in our midst.' I understand the correct use of 'who' and 'whom' and of 'shall' and 'will.' I prefer 'office' to 'official,' 'dwelling' to 'residence.' I avoid 'as to whether,' 'abhor,' 'reputational,' never split an infinitive and never write a sentence long enough to tie in a double bow-knot."

He got the position.—Fourth Estate

TOWNSHIP TICKET.

Justice of the Peace,
H. P. M'CARRON.
Clerk,
J. N. HANLEY.
Trustee,
JOSEPH BEARDMORE.

KENTON Democrats nominated a candidate for mayor by flipping coins. They didn't care the toss of a copper who got it.

THE Boers worked the fool retreat racket on Buller for a time but with "Bobs" it is spelt differently. It's full retreat now in earnest.

THE ECKER CASE.

Fathers and mothers of East Liverpool, your sons are in deadly danger, for time and for eternity, when saloons like that run by Ecker, in front of municipal hall, are permitted to exist and carry on their infamously illegal traffic.

CAN THIS BE TRUE?

And now it is said, on good authority, that a prominent Republican councilman is and has been advising with Democracy, in common with the Liquor League, for the defeat of the Republican candidate for council in the Fourth ward, David McLane. If this be true, and there appears to be no doubt of its correctness, Mr. Councilman had better leave the party he disgraces.

HOMELESS CHILDREN.

State Senator Marchant has introduced a bill, supported by the state board of charities, which proposes the employment of a state children's home agent by the charities board, to devote his time to finding homes for the children. There are 2,400 children in the Ohio homes, most of whom, as matters stand, will remain there until they become of age for discharge. Indiana has just tried this experiment and found it so successful that the appropriation has been doubled.

WATCH THEM.

Yes, and watch them very closely. They are determined to try to down any and all men who will not bow to them and act in accordance with their orders and wishes. They don't care what party the candidates or nominees belong to. They don't want MEN elected. They want THINGS—creatures who can be bought and sold at so much a head. Of course we refer to the Liquor League of East Liverpool. They should be defied and taught a much needed lesson. The day of the rule of the whisky flask and beer keg has passed away. Better things are in sight. Give 'em open defiance. You can afford to do it. BE MEN—not THINGS.

OVERSTUDY.

A writer in the Ohio Educational Monthly says: In our own schools for a normal child the time required for school duties is as follows: In the primary grades only one-seventh of the child's waking hours in each year; in the grammar grades one-fifth of the waking hours, and in the high school one-fourth. These figures are based on an allowance of nine hours daily for sleep. Holidays are deducted, not recess time. For the upper grammar grades one hour of home study is included and two hours of home study in the high school. Over study will continue as long as parents insist upon pressing their children forward, either because they wish them to keep pace with their neighbor children or because they desire to get them through school as rapidly as possible so they can be put to work and earning wages. That too many studies are pursued, as asserted by Editor Bok, of the Ladies' Home Journal, this writer claims, is not a cause of over study. Instead, by adding variety, it gives zest to the studies. Improper hours and distractions outside of school do more harm than overstudy, although the evil effects are sometimes attributed to too much study. The co-operation of parents with teachers would obviate most of the overstudy.

Superintendent R. E. Rayman fully concurs with the opinions expressed by the writer in the Monthly. He says children are frequently overburdened outside of school, and that, taken in connection with their school work, does overwork them and the school gets the credit. Getting an education is not unlike getting anything else in this world. It requires time and effort in order to succeed. It would be well, Mr. Rayman adds, for Mr. Bok to consider some of these practical features that really exist in practical work, which, of course, he does not know anything about, not having had the experience.

MRS. REARK ILL.

Aged Lady Seriously Upset by Death of Two Grandchildren.

Mrs. Rebecca Reark, mother of Charles Reark, Fifth and Monroe, has been seriously ill with nervous prostration since the death of her two little grandchildren last week. She is 74 years of age, and the shock of the loss of her two favorite grandchildren completely unnerved her. Her many friends will be pained to learn of her illness but will be glad to know it is not of a dangerous nature, her condition being slightly better this morning.

Card of Thanks.

We desire to thank our friends and neighbors, and also Dr. Clark Crawford, for the many acts of kindness during our sad bereavement, in the death of our two children.

TO BE REPORTED SOON

Senate Judiciary Committee to Act on Clark Local Option Bill

The Arguments in Detail as Presented at the Meeting of the Committee Held to Hear Petitions For and Protests Against the Bill.

COLUMBUS, March 8.—[Special]—The senate judiciary committee has heard arguments for and against the Clark local option bill, and it can now be asserted with reasonable positiveness that the committee, when it takes action next week, will report it without a recommendation as it came from the house and that the senate will pass the bill finally as it stands. Eighteen senators, three of a majority, are certain for the measure.

At the hearing every point made by the supporters of the bill was warmly applauded by the large audience, while the remarks of the opponents were received with silence and incredulous smiles. Mr. Clark, author of the bill, said it was merely designed to give the residents of wards and districts the power to say whether or not they wanted saloons within their districts. There was no infringement of personal liberty, but rather an amplification of it.

The opponents of the bill devoted most of their time to attacking prohibition, which, they said, was the ultimate aim of the Clark bill. They talked about the property rights of the liquor trade and the outrage of robbing the poor man of his "club." They also claimed that the bill was unconstitutional, but failed to prove it.

Mr. Todd, state lecturer for the farmers' institutes, declared that the farmers were heartily in favor of the bill. Those who spoke in favor of the bill were General Hurst, Chillicothe; Philip Roentinger, of Cincinnati, and Messrs. Clark and Todd. Those opposing were Judge Russell, of Meigs; A. W. Krumm, of Columbus, and Attorney Probasco, of Cincinnati, representing the liquor interests.

TRADES COUNCIL.

A Large Number of Delegates Were Seated Last Night.

Trades council met last night and the following delegates were seated: U. G. King, O. J. McHugh, typographical union, 318; E. J. Watkins, slipmakers, 21; A. E. Czech, tailors, 254; John Hughes, teamsters, 1,984; O. F. Patterson, George Pyle, porcelain makers, 1,669.

J. J. Weisend reported that the coopers had reorganized, and after transacting some routine business the council adjourned.

DIRECTOR ROSEBOROUGH

Has Been Taken From His Home to the Lakeside Hospital at Cleveland.

Word was received in the city yesterday that Physical Director Roseborough had been taken to the Lakeside hospital, Cleveland. Mr. Roseborough has been seriously ill at his home in Cleveland with typhoid fever, and his very many friends here hope that he may soon regain his health.

Big Bill for Nursing.

LISBON, March 7.—[Special]—Agnes Meister asks $750 from Robert Treffinger as administrator of the estate of Henry Rork, late of Franklin township, the amount being for the care of Catherine Rork, now deceased, widow of Henry Rork, for 80 weeks at $25 a week.

NAPOLEON AT ST. HELENA.

His Indignation at Being Spied Upon by His Keepers.

One of the "Talks With Napoleon" quoted from Dr. O'Meara's diary in The Century records Napoleon's indignation at being, as he considered it, spied upon while living at St. Helena. "I understand," said he, "that an officer is placed here to report about me and to see me two or three times in the 24 hours and that they are talking of making him go into my chamber to see me if I did not come out. Any person," said he then, with considerable agitation, "who endeavors to force his way into my apartment will be a corpse the moment he enters it. If he ever eats bread or meat afterward, I am not Napoleon. This I am determined on."

"I know that I will be killed afterward, as what can one do against a camp? But what of that? I have faced death many a time. Besides I am convinced that this governor, this chief of jailers, has been sent out on purpose to poison me or put me to death some way or another or under some pretext by Lord Castlereagh."

"I have seen," continued he, "Russians, Prussians, Arabs, Cossacks, Tartars, Spaniards, Persians, Turks" (here he enumerated a great many more), "and never in my life before did I behold so ill favored and forbidding a countenance or so down and horrid a look. He carries crime imprinted on his countenance. (Il porte le crime empreint sur son visage.) He is a man, to judge from his physiognomy, that one would select for the commission of any atrocious crime and as such has been selected out by your ministers, I suppose, on purpose to make away with me."

WON HIM A BRIDE.

The Ruse by Which One Young Man's Credit Was Established.

Major J. M. Burke told a good story of his experience in helping a friend to get the girl of his choice.

"He was a good fellow," said he, "but young and without much capital. The girl was a beauty and loved the boy, but the father (the same old irate father) objected and demanded that the boy show that he was capable of supporting a wife. This was in St. Louis about ten years ago, and the boy came to me with his troubles."

"Never mind," said I. "I'll fix it up all right. By the way, how much will you take for your right leg?"

"He looked at me as though I were crazy, but made no answer."

"I'll give you $10,000 for it," I said. "Will you take it?"

"No, I won't," he said. "What do you take me for?"

"Well, I knew the girl's father; he was a merchant, and I called to see him. We finally drifted around to talking about this young fellow; and the old man flared a little, stating that he wanted some one who could support a wife to have his daughter."

"Support a wife!" said I, in surprise. "Why, he certainly can do all that. Only a few days ago he refused $10,000 for a piece of property."

"His own property?" asked the father. "Certainly," said I.

"Who offered him the money?" asked he.

"I did, and he refused it," I answered. "He claimed it was worth more."

"Well, this made a hit, and no more questions were asked. The boy is doing well now and has a good family. I haven't spoken to the father since."—Washington Times.

More Than He Bargained For.

One evening when a traveling circus was on its way to a large town the proprietor resolved to make a halt for a few hours at a village some two or three miles from the town. So an agent was sent on in advance to the village to secure a favorable field for the rest by the wayside.

Noticing a large and suitable field, he sought out the owner and told him he would like to turn something out in the field for an hour or so before going on to the town and concluded by asking how much he required for the use of the field.

"Well," said the farmer, "I suppose half a crown won't hurt you."

"That," was the ready reply, "will do very well. But perhaps you don't mind taking a crown," an offer the somewhat astonished yeoman was only too glad to accept.

Fancy his surprise when, a few hours afterward, a herd of elephants, a dozen dromedaries and about 200 horses and ponies had not only been turned out into the field, but were fairly wiping the herbage out of existence.

That the farmer was furious goes without saying, but the circus proprietor pointed out that he had received twice as much as he had asked for something to be turned out for an hour or two.

"But," roared the farmer, more irate than ever, "do you think I bargained for a Noah's ark?"—Tit-Bits.

A Queer Transaction.

"A casual observer might suppose that our business was intensely prosaic," said a Poydras street commission merchant, "but such is far from being the case. All sorts of queer things happen in it, not the least of which are occasional consignments we receive from nowhere in particular."

"For instance, back in 1896 or thereabout we got a load of fine onions one day by boat. No directions accompanied them, but we took it for granted they would arrive by mail. When the expected letter failed to put in an appearance and we instituted inquiries, we could get no clew to the identity of the shipper, and all we could do was to sell the lot and deposit the money in bank, waiting on a claimant."

"Fully three years had elapsed when, to my surprise, another load of the same kind of onions came to hand, accompanied by a letter from the sender saying that he had forwarded a similar consignment at such and such a date and that his business relations with the house had been so satisfactory he wished to repeat the transaction. We sent a check for the lump sum, but what the dickens he meant by his business relations being satisfactory when he had had only one deal with us, and didn't get his money on that. I never found out. I suppose he just forgot."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Their Little Weaknesses.

"Nations and women are a good deal alike."

"In what way?"

GORGEOUS SPLENDOR

Rainbow Raiment for the New City Marshal.

A GLORIOUS GLITTER OF GOLD

This city is to have an up-to-date police force with the beginning of the new administration.

Councilmen Peach, Marshall, Ashbaugh, Seckerson and Fisher met last evening at city hall and prepared some new rules for the government of the police force. The rules will be submitted at the next regular meeting of council and will be adopted, in order that they may go into effect with the coming administration. They are as follows:

Sub-division 2, rule 1—"It is required that every person required to serve on the police force shall be able to read and write the English language; that they shall be citizens of the United States and residents of the city of East Liverpool. They must be over 21 years of age, and measure not less than 5 feet 10 inches or weighing not less than 160 pounds, and must be of good health, good moral character, steady habits and sound body."

Section 12, sub-division of the rules and regulations for the government of the police force, is amended to read as follows:

"That the chief of police shall wear a uniform consisting of regulation cap of dark navy blue, to have one-half inch of gold band around and also to have shield of office on the front of cap. Uniform to consist of frock coat to be within three inches of knee, with double row brass buttons on front of coat and one-half inch band of gold braid on shoulders of coat, also around each sleeve, and he shall wear badge of office on left breast of outer garment.

"The uniform of police shall consist of navy blue frock coat, to be buttoned to neck and to be within three inches of knee, single row of buttons and helmet-hat to be of dark navy blue, with shield on front of helmet.

"The chief of police and officers shall at all times while on duty wear full uniforms, and also wear belts, their clubs to be worn in belts on outside of coat. Police shall also keep uniforms neat and clean and also have shoes blackened. Any officer who shall appear on duty without observing the foregoing regulations shall be suspended by either the mayor or the marshal for the period of two weeks without pay, and it shall be the duty of the mayor and the marshal to enforce this rule to the letter."

The rules are signed by G. W. Ashbaugh and A. L. Seckerson, of the police committee.

HON. C. C. BAKER.

The Congressional Candidate in East Liverpool and Getting Acquainted.

Hon. C. C. Baker has been in our city today, arriving on the eastbound train last night. He is a man of fine appearance and superb address and creates a very favorable impression as he passes to and fro, hand-shaking and forming the acquaintance of our merchants, business men and pottery workers. He wins friends by the manner in which he is conducting his canvass, having nothing but the very best words for his opponents. This is as it should be. The day of scurrilous attacks upon a rival or political opponent, especially among men who belong to the same party, should be buried deep in the sea of oblivion.

R. D. VanFossen, our townsman, served in the same regiment with C. C. Baker in the days of the civil war, and he speaks of Comrade Baker in warm terms of praise, asserting that he was a model soldier, and a skillful horseman, winning friends in his regiment in the same manner as he now wins friends in civil life. VanFossen asserts that Baker is a hustler from away back, and says that his congressional rivals will know that they have been in a contest before the battle of ballots ceases.

KEMP NOT GUILTY.

Acquitted of the Charge of Burglary at Salem—Ramsey Sentenced.

LISBON, March 8.—[Special]—In the case of Harry Kemp, of Salem, charged with burglarizing the D. W. Bonnell store, Salem, the jury retired at 7:30 last evening, and after being out seven hours, returned a verdict of not guilty.

A motion for a new trial in the Thos. Ramsey case, found guilty of same charge, was argued last evening and was overruled by Judge W. W. Hole this morning.

Ramsey will be sentenced to the Ohio state reformatory at Mansfield this afternoon.

READY FOR PRIMARIES

JUDGES, SUPERVISORS & CLERKS

Were Appointed From Among the Members of the Central Committee—McLane's Election Was Ratified—Candidates Must Send In Their Names.

The Republican central committee met last night and ratified the selection of D. M. McLane as a candidate for council from the Fourth ward.

The members of the committee will act as supervisors, judges and clerks of the county primary to be held Saturday, March 24, between the hours of 1 and 6 p. m. standard time. The parties who will have charge of the election are as follows:

First ward—First precinct, Joe Betz, Wm. Miller, John S. Goodwin; Second precinct, W. V. Blake, William Randolph, A. W. King.

Second ward—First precinct, J. H. Burgess, Edward Hatton, Charles Kinney; Second precinct, J. N. Hanley, George Grosshans, John Boesen.

Third ward—First precinct, G. H. Owen, M. D. Logan, J. W. Irwin; Second precinct, Arthur Grim, John Reark, W. C. Watson.

Fourth ward—First precinct, A. W. Thomas, D. F. Nellis, Criss McConnell; Second precinct, George Smith, W. G. Pollock, F. R. Burchill.

Fifth ward—Charles Gallagher, Jay Fisher, Irwin Allison.

A rule was passed that all candidates for the central committee must hand their names to the secretary by tomorrow evening in order to get on the ticket. This is in accordance with the new rules of the county committee.

C. C. Baker was present at the meeting and was introduced to the members of the committee.

SIGNED THE PAPER

Without Examination and Later Found What It Was to Their Cost.

A couple of uptown business men were recently approached by a young man and asked to sign a paper, which they supposed was a recommendation for him. A few days ago they were notified by one of the companies which the young man represented that he was short and asking them to make good. They then discovered that the supposed recommendation had been a bond. By attaching the young man's money they raised $100 of the $312 claimed and gave their notes for the balance. There was some talk that they intended to take action on the matter, but this was found impossible in the circumstances and nothing will be done as long as he remains in this city.

SETTLED A CASE.

The Ikirt-Veder Litigation in the Tennessee Court Has Been Settled.

The case of John S. Veder versus the late Dr. J. J. Ikirt has been settled by the Tennessee courts. In 1894 the doctor and Veder traded properties, and later it was found that Veder didn't have a clear title to the land in Beaver county that he had traded for property in Tennessee, as his wife had sued him for non-support and obtained judgment. Veder claimed that his land was worth more than the doctor's and wanted $1,600 damages, while the doctor asked that the sale be set aside. After the death of Doctor Ikirt the case was carried on by his executors, and in the court of chancery of Coffee county, Tennessee, Veder was restrained from entering a suit for damages, but the court would not set aside the sale. The court of appeals reversed the decision and set aside the sale and the supreme court sustained the decision, meaning a complete victory for the executors of the estate. A. H. Clark and George S. Ramsey were the attorneys in the case, and the litigation is of particular interest to people in this city.

FELL FROM FOURTH FLOOR.

Clemet Lemmon Seriously Injured at the New Brewery Today.

Clemet Lemmon, of Mulberry street, East End, was seriously injured at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon by falling from the fourth story of the new Crookery City brewery.

Lemmon was employed by the Potter, Fry Iron company, Cincinnati, and was working under Henry Whitman, superintendent of the structural department. He was assisting to place an iron girder when he slipped back, missed his footing and fell onto the roof of the hoisting engine room. In falling Lemmon fell across a piece of iron half an inch in thickness, used as a girder support, knocking it out of position. He was removed to the office and Doctor Hobbs summoned. His right leg was broken below the knee and a deep cut made on left side of his head.

ATTRACTIVE ADDRESS.

Rev. E. C. Little Speaks on the "Sin of Not Doing" Last Evening.

Rev. E. C. Little, of Washington, Pa., took as his subject at the First United Presbyterian church last night, the "Sin of Not Doing." He said it was an actual sin, because it was an omission to obey God's commands. It brought down Divine condemnation, the Scriptures citing the penalty for failure to do right. It was a prevalent sin, for many people thought they were all right because they did nothing. The lecture room being too small, the meeting was transferred to the church, where tonight's service will also be held.

Notice.

All prospective candidates for members of the Republican central committee of this township are required to file their names with the secretary of said committee on or before 6 p. m., of Friday, March 9, in order that names may be printed on ballots. By order of Republican central committee.

G. H. OWEN, chairman.

J. N. HANLEY, secretary.

Grim Case on Trial.

The case of Arthur Grim against the city of East Liverpool and Mayor C. A. Bough and his bondsmen is being heard before a jury in the court of Justice Rose this afternoon. The attorneys were talking most of the afternoon.

LEYMEISTER HAD A GUN

DUMAN WAS BADLY FRIGHTENED

And Called on the Police For Assistance. Leymeister Was Arrested but the Revolver Wasn't Loaded When the Police Got It—Annie Jones Was Drunk.

Frank Leymeister was employed as a baker at the shop of A. Galm until about six weeks ago, when he quit. Joseph Duman was engaged to take his place. Last night Leymeister returned, and, going to the shop, addressed hard names to Duman and ended by pointing a revolver at him. Leymeister was arrested by Officer Wood at 11:30 at his room at the corner of Sixth and Jackson streets. The revolver was empty when Officers Davidson and Wood got it. This morning a charge of disorderly conduct was placed against Leymeister and the mayor fined him $24.60.

Annie Jones was found drunk and asleep at the corner of Second and Washington streets this morning at 2:30 o'clock. When searched a half-pint of whisky was found in one stocking and a comb and a curling iron in the other stocking. She had a few hairpins in her pockets. The mayor turned her out this morning.

Dave and Melville Wooley will call on the mayor this evening and tell how the trouble happened at their house a few evenings ago.

WELL DRESSED MEN.

An Expert Says Denver Heads the List, With San Francisco Second, Chicago Third, Washington Fourth, and New York Trails Along Fifth.

"I'd probably be discharged, mobbed and have all sorts of things happen to me if I said this over in the big town, but I can name you at least four American cities the men of which are better dressed year in and year out than the men of New York," said a man who travels for a New York merchant tailor's supply house and whose territory is the whole continent. "I'll name them in the order of their standing as communities inhabited by the best dressed men: Denver, San Francisco, Chicago and Washington. How do I figure it? Just according to the rule of sight, that's all. I don't profess to know much about Egyptology, but I do know a well dressed man when I see him.

"Mind, I don't say that all of the men of those four cities are better dressed than all of the men of New York, but I do maintain and say any impartial man who knows the four towns mentioned as they are now will uphold me in maintaining that in ratio to their respective populations the men of Denver, San Francisco, Chicago and Washington are very much better dressed than are the men of New York. Of course this has been the case only in very recent years. New York was until, say, five years ago away ahead of all its rivals as a city of the best dressed men. At that time if you wanted to see hundreds of perfectly dressed and perfectly groomed men engaged in doing business all you had to do was to take an elevated train up town in the neighborhood of 10 o'clock in the morning and watch the men, young, middle aged and old, who boarded the train for the downtown financial district.

"Of course you'll still see slews of thoroughly got up men down in the financial district of New York, but not so many by 75 per cent as formerly. On show occasions, such as Easter Sunday afternoon, New York will still turn out a finely clad batch of men, but I'm not talking about show occasions now. I'm talking about men who are well clad year in and year out, and it is in this respect that New York has fallen into the 'also ran' list.

"When you meet up town in New York a genuinely swagger man—not a flashily dressed man, but one who is thoroughly and properly rigged out from his hat to his shoes—you are liable to turn around to get a rear view of him, and then the fact is liable to be slowly borne in upon you that he is some member of a theatrical profession whom you have seen upon the stage. There are still plenty of flashily dressed men circulating around New York, but a flashily dressed man never will be a well dressed man.

"The reason why the men of Denver are such a well dressed lot isn't entirely clear to me. It can't be especially because there are so many well off men in that town, because there are myriads of well off men in New York. Maybe it is because, in proportion to the population, there are probably more men with large incomes in Denver than in any city on the continent, not excepting Helena, that used to bear that distinction. You scarcely ever see a badly dressed or an over-dressed man in Denver. Shabby men there are in plenty, of course, but I don't call a shabby man a badly dressed man. A badly dressed man is one who, while having plenty of means to equip himself with a good make up, hasn't the taste to do it and therefore makes his appearance as a slouch—that's the word for it—slouch. A shabby man is simply a man who is on his uppers and makes no pretensions.

"The clerks and other men of very moderate incomes in Denver, men who can't afford to 'keep in the push' as far as correct dressing goes, don't make any effort whatever to tog themselves out in cheap, dismal imitation of the men with plenty of money; but, like the young woman in the song, 'they always dress in black.' The business men who run plants of their own, however, seem to pay just as much attention to the job of getting themselves ready for business on weekday mornings as they do to the task of arraying themselves for social functions or evening appearances.

"Easterners who have gone out to the coast have often commented upon the swiftness of the average well fixed

San Francisco man in the matter of clothes. The San Francisco man with an income certainly gets himself up 'proper,' as we say, and he's got the right kind of a make up for every occasion. Take the race tracks around San Francisco, for example. Every man who goes to the races out there goes in a regular racing rig, from paddock coat to fieldglass and from the top of his hat crowned derby to the soles of his 'downs' boots, and so do the Frisco women, for the matter of that. Another thing, I'll venture to assert that nine out of ten men in San Francisco whose incomes are $2,000 a year or over rig out in evening clothes every night in the year, summer included. A great many more men of moderate incomes in Washington don evening clothes than men of similar incomes in New York. The men of Washington dress with singular neatness, many with notable elegance. The excellence of the Washington average, I suppose, is to be accounted for by the absence of a large laboring class here."—Washington Post.

Chinese Leather.

The process by which the Chinese leather acquires its peculiar characteristics is described as follows:

The skins are put into tubs containing water, saltpeter and salt and after 30 days are taken out, the hair is shaved off and the skins well washed in spring water. Each hide is then cut up into three pieces and well steamed, which is done by passing them several times backward and forward over a steaming oven. Further, each piece is stretched out separately over a flat board and secured with nails, so as to dry gradually and thoroughly in the sun. The smoke of the oven makes the leather black, and if it is desired to have it of a yellow appearance it is rubbed over with water in which the fruit of the so called wongchee tree has been soaked.

Of the offal glue is made by heating it in pans for 12 hours over a slow fire, and the glue so obtained is poured into rough earthen vessels, where it remains three days in order to coagulate. The solid mass is cut into pieces with sharp knives and carefully laid upon gratinglike trays to dry, the time taken in drying varying from 5 days, with a northwest wind, to 30 or 40 days with a southwest.—Boston Transcript.

The Land of the Guitar.

In Portugal men play upon the guitar as naturally as Yankees whistle. The peasants are universally given to the instrument, chiefly as an accompaniment to the voice. In towns and villages the artisans are often expert guitar players and walk in groups to and from their work, enlivening the journey with music and song. The carpenter who comes to your house to execute a small job brings his guitar with his tools, and the blacksmith is a far better performer on the guitar than the anvil.

When the Portuguese day laborer or workman has finished his long day's toil, he does not hie him to a wineshop to squander the few cents he has earned; he does not even lean against a post and smoke or whittle a stick while swapping yarns with his fellows. If he did not bring his guitar with him, he goes straight home and gets it, rests and comforts himself with the music while supper is being prepared. Afterward he spends the evening singing doggerel songs to a strumming accompaniment, tilted back in a chair against his own house or on the doorstep of a neighbor.—Philadelphia Record.

His Paraphrase.

"You often see the phrase 'Memphis, the Queen of the Valley, God bless her,'" remarked a newspaper man the other day. "The birth of that expression was the wherefore of one of the wittiest things Ned Carmack ever said.

"It was in the lifetime of The Appeal-Avalanche and while Mr. Carmack was editor of The Commercial. There was a municipal election of minor importance on hand, and the editor of The Avalanche was just 'happy' enough to do a two column editorial of gush concerning the life and death issues of the election under the sentimental headline 'Memphis, the Queen of the Valley, God Bless Her!'

"Mr. Carmack came out in the morning paper with no other comment on the all important subject under consideration than this epigram, which completely covered the case and made the phrase immortal. 'Blank, the fool of the Valley, God help him!'"—Memphis Scimitar.

UNION LABELS

It should be a deep-rooted principle of all union workmen and union sympathizers, and particularly those members of the different organizations of East Liverpool, to buy nothing but Union Label goods, in preference to all others. And why not? If we ask fair wages for our labor, why should we buy goods made at unfair wages by others?

The Union Label in every industry is a guarantee of fair wages, decent working hours, and union labor employed.

UNION PAPERS.

Lady Churchill's Patriotic Retort.

Lady Churchill has inherited the wit of her father, as she demonstrated upon one occasion to an eminent British politician. He was somewhat annoyed at the campaign she had made and said:

"I really don't understand, Lady Churchill, why or how it is that American ladies refuse to enter political life in their own country, but overwhelm us here in England."

"That is because you have never traveled in the United States. The men there are so intelligent and patriotic that they do not require the services of our sex as an educating force."

BOERS PUT TO FLIGHT

LEFT A GUN, FORAGE AND TENTS.

French Reported That the Horse Batteries Did Great Execution Among the Burghers—British Casualties About 50. Lieutenant Keswick Killed.

LONDON, March 8.—The war office posted the following advices from Lord Roberts:

"POPULAR GROVE, Wednesday, March 7.—Evening.—We had a very successful day and have completely routed the enemy, who are in full retreat.

"The position which they occupied is extremely strong and cunningly arranged with a second line of intrenchments, which would have caused us

COLONEL F. W. KITCHENER.

A British Officer Fighting in South Africa.

heavy loss had a direct attack been made.

"The turning movement was necessarily wide, owing to the nature of the ground, and the cavalry and horse artillery horses are much done up.

"The fighting was practically confined to the cavalry division, which, as usual, did exceedingly well, and General French reports that the horse artillery batteries did great execution among the enemy.

"Our casualties were about 50. I regret to say that Lieutenant Keswick was killed and Lieutenant Bailey was severely wounded, both of the Twelfth Lancers. Lieutenant De Crespigny, of the Second Life Guards, was severely wounded. Remaining casualties will be telegraphed tomorrow.

"Generals Devet and Delarey commanded the Boer forces."

OSFONTEIN, March 8.—Lord Roberts' force advanced early Tuesday morning. General French turned the southern part of the position of the Boers, who fled incontinently, leaving a gun, immense quantities of forage and their tents. He is now in pursuit.

The Boers on the north bank are also evacuating the position.

COMMANDANT'S MISTAKE.

Boer Report Said It Resulted in the Raising of the Siege of Ladysmith.

BOER CAMP, Biggarsberg, March 8.—The federals have fallen back on the Biggarsberg chain that crosses Natal, south of Dundee. The retreat from Ladysmith was due to a mistake of a certain commandant in ordering his men to retire from the key of the position without any reason for the move.

On the receipt of the bad news from the Modder river it was resolved to send the wagons back to Biggarsberg, and soon long strings of ox wagons took the westerly route to the larger southwest of Ladysmith. Another convoy was sent to the foot of the Drakensberg. A large number of tents captured from the British at Dundee and also ammunition were abandoned.

The chief difficulty was in dismounting "Long Tom."

The Boers were independent of the railway, as is shown by the fact that not one of their 2,000 wagons went by rail. All travel in the byway road together with the field batteries. Only big guns, the infantry and the wounded went by rail.

When the last train had left Elands-laagte a workmen's train followed, carefully blowing up bridges and culverts between Ladysmith and Glencoe and, when this had been done, setting fire to the Elands-laagte collieries. Thus the British, with Natal's southernmost collieries in their hands, are unable to draw supplies therefrom.

Under cover of the night, and with the collieries sending lurid flames to heaven, the bullock wagons wound over the hills, making roads where none before existed, and the four months' siege of Ladysmith was raised.

CRONJE TO ST. HELENA.

British Decide to Send Him and Other Boer Prisoners to the Island.

LONDON, March 8.—The military authorities have decided that General Cronje and the other Boer prisoners shall be sent immediately to the island of St. Helena, there to remain until the end of the war.

Lord Roberts has chosen Lord Bathurst, colonel of a militia regiment at the front, to command the escort to St. Helena, which was last month placed in cable communication with Cape Town and London.

It is also asserted that the cabinet has resolved neither to propose nor to entertain a proposal at the present juncture for exchange of prisoners.

TO REIMBURSE BUSHNELL.

Ohio Senate Passed Bill to Pay Him and McLean For the Fourth's Expenses.

COLUMBUS, O., March 8.—The senate passed the Dodge bill, appropriating money to pay the expenses of the Fourth Ohio regiment and unattached companies which went to New York to participate in the Dewey celebration.

It was understood during the campaign that John R. McLean and Governor Bushnell were to advance the money for expenses of the Fourth, but under the provisions of this bill, these gentlemen will now be reimbursed.

SUSPECTED PLAGUE CASE.

Suspicious as to the Cause of a Chinaman's Death in San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 8.—A case of what is supposed to be bubonic plague, though the exact nature of the disease is yet uncertain, has been discovered in Chinatown. The victim, who was a Chinaman, living at 1004 Dupont street, died, and the whole of Chinatown has been placed under strict quarantine.

The physicians are not yet prepared to make a definite statement, but others who have had experience say the case will hardly prove to be plague, as the dead man had long been a resident of this city.

NEW BANKS TO BE STARTED.

Many National Institutions Will Be Set Up on Very Small Capital.

NEW YORK, March 8.—Advices received by local banking interests from small towns throughout the United States indicate that state banks in all sections of the country are preparing to take out charters under the national system as soon as the currency bill becomes a law.

One man from a western town told a bank officer that he expected to start eight banks, with a capital of $25,000. Reports of similar preparations in other sections of the country led to a prediction by an officer of one of the best known banks that fully 2,000 national charters would be applied for after existing restrictions were modified.

Negroes Ordered Mustered Out.

HARRISBURG, March 8.—An order was issued from national guard headquarters ordering the muster out of the Gray Invincibles of Philadelphia, the only organization of colored troops in the guard, because it is inefficient and in an unsatisfactory condition and had been recommended for disbandment by the inspector.

RIVERS OUT OF BANKS.

Streams in Northern Ohio Flooded—Serious Damage at Some Places. Bridge Destroyed.

CLEVELAND, March 8.—Telegrams from various points in Northern Ohio indicated that great damage was being done by floods.

At Fremont the Sandusky river overflowed its banks and submerged the lower part of the town. Cellars of business houses were filled with water and many factories were compelled to close down.

At Warren the Mahoning river reached the danger point and the lower part of the town was flooded. Much damage resulted at Massillon owing to the Tuscarawas river overflowing its banks.

The Grand river, at Painesville, was out of its banks and a serious flood was feared.

The bridge of the Sandusky, Milan and Norwalk electric road, at Milan, was washed away and much other damage done.

Rocky river was on a rampage at Berea, where 200 acres were submerged and the water was still rising.

FIRE LOSS OVER $700,000.

Conflagration in Retail Drygoods District in Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, March 8.—A fire entailing an estimated loss of over $700,000 occurred in the retail drygoods district. The conflagration originated in the engine room of Shoneman Brothers' drygoods and millinery store at Eighth and Arch streets.

The loss is placed at $300,000. Marks Brothers, dry goods store, adjoining, was partially damaged by smoke and water and their store house was completely gutted, entailing an estimated loss of $300,000.

The flames spread to the building on Cherry street occupied by Myerhoff Brothers, manufacturers of women's and children's clothing, and the Philadelphia Electrical Equipment company. Nothing was left of this place but the walls. The loss is placed at $200,000.

Several smaller buildings were more or less seriously damaged.

AN AWE-INSPIRING SIGHT.

WASHINGTON, March 8.—James R. Sovereign, former grand master workman of the Knights of Labor, resumed his testimony at the Couer d'Alene investigation before the house committee on military affairs.

The members of the committee cross-examined Mr. Sovereign at considerable length. Representative Hull again took him over the assembling of miners on the morning the mill was blown up. The witness said it was evident there was some preconcerted action. At Mr. Hull's request Mr. Sovereign read an article in the paper edited by him on "Bunker Hill destroyed; 1,000 determined men wreak vengeance on the scab mine."

The article said that half of the 1,000 men were masked and armed with Winchester rifles, and described the awe-inspiring scenes as 3,000 pounds of dynamite were placed under the mine concentrator, one of the largest in the world, and it was completely wrecked after three terrific explosions.

THE LABOR WAR IN CHICAGO.

Building Contractors Announce Their Determination to Reject Arbitration.

CHICAGO, March 8.—Apparently all hope of a settlement in the near future of the differences between the unions affiliated with the building trades council and the contractors were dissipated when the building contractors' council made a declaration that no opportunity to arbitrate will be afforded by that body no matter what pressure may be brought to bear by the industrial commission soon to meet here.

NO COMPROMISE OF SUIT.

Carnegie Attorneys Deny That Any Peace Negotiations Are On.

PITTSBURG, March 8.—President O. M. Schwab, of the Carnegie Steel company, limited, arrived here from New York, where he had been conferring with Andrew Carnegie for several days. It is now learned that the answer of the Carnegie company will not be filed until early next week.

Dealings Approached the Point of Stagnation—Movement of Prices Without Significance.

NEW YORK, March 8.—Professional bear operators suspended their campaign for a decline in the stock market Wednesday. The bull contingent, on the other hand, was hampered by the continually increasing closer conditions in the money market and by the determined indifference of the outside public.

In consequence, dealing on the Exchange approached the point of stagnation, and the movement of prices was entirely without significance.

CASUALTIES OF BULLER'S ARMY.

The Total Losses in the Campaign to Ladysmith Reached 1,859.

LONDON, March 8.—Another list of the casualties sustained by General Buller's army from Feb. 14 to Feb. 27 shows: Killed, 123; wounded, 573; missing, 54. Of these the losses of the Inniskillings were as follows: Killed, 54; wounded, 162; missing, 23; Dublin Fusiliers, killed, 15; wounded, 97; missing, 18. Connaught Rangers, killed, 19; wounded, 105; missing, 8. Royal Irish Fusiliers, killed, 11; wounded, 63; missing, 2. Scots Fusiliers, killed, 18; wounded, 68; missing, 0. With the list of casualties issued Monday this makes the total cost to the rank and file in the final relief of Ladysmith 1,859 men.

MISS WHEELER NOT ENGAGED.

She Denied the Report—The General's Reception.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 8.—General Wheeler and daughter were landed in this city. He said he resigned from the army before congress met, so his seat could not be affected.

His daughter denied she was engaged to be married. It was reported she was to marry Lieutenant Fiscus, of Pennsylvania.

Third Death May Result.

PITTSBURG, March 8.—It is not unlikely that a third death will occur as a result of the collapse of the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago railroad bridge across Robinson street. James F. Martin, the conductor of the ill-fated train, whose body was frightfully scalded, lies at the point of death in the Allegheny General hospital, though there is yet a ray of hope that he will recover.

Samoan Treaty Ratifications Exchanged.

WASHINGTON, March 8.—The ratifications of the Samoan treaty were exchanged at the state department by Secretary Hay for the United States, Lord Pouncefote for Great Britain and Dr. Von Holleben for Germany. The treaty submits the claims to the arbitration of King Oscar, of Sweden.

Brothers Indicted For Murder.

MEDIA, Pa., March 8.—The grand jury found true bills of indictment against James Pierce and Amos, alias "Pinny" Pierce, his brother, charging them with the murder of George B. Eyre, of Chester, on Dec. 21 of last year. The trial of the cases has been postponed until the June term.

Bowed Down to Freedman.

NEW YORK, March 8.—The baseball magnates did practically nothing at their meeting. It developed that some time ago the fine in the Ducky Holmes case was remitted to him with 6 per cent interest.

WEATHER FORECAST.

Ohio—Fair today; warmer in northern portion; partly cloudy and warmer tomorrow; variable winds.

Western Pennsylvania—Fair today. Tomorrow fair; warmer; variable winds.

Wealthy man Suicided.

NEW YORK, March 8.—Conrad H. Abelman, a wealthy retired produce merchant, 50 years old, committed suicide at his home in Brooklyn. He had suffered from nervous prostration for months.

FIVE RESCUED ALIVE

Seriously Injured Taken From Red Ash Mine.

29 DEAD BODIES ARE SECURED.

Estimates of the Number Who Perished Placed at 50, 60 and Even 70—List of Known Dead—Speculation as to Cause. Number of Funerals Held.

FIRE CREEK, W. Va., March 8.—The rescuing parties continued working hard at Red Ash mine in removing the debris and securing the bodies of the victims of the explosion.

The scenes of distress among those hunting their missing friends are still as appalling as the day before. The work at the mine continued night and day, and it was still impossible to give the exact number of the victims or to identify all of the bodies that have been recovered. The most conservative estimates of some of those connected with the mine places the number of killed at 52, and there are others who insist that the number of victims will be found to reach 60.

A report from the rescuers at the mine was that 34 had been taken out, 29 being dead and five seriously injured. Those rescued alive are: Carl Downey, John L. Day, Joseph Elliott, John Kane and Harry Dawson. While the surviving miners and others estimate that there are at least 39 miners entombed, General Manager Howell says there are still in the mine only 36. The estimate of the latter would indicate that there were 70 killed and five injured, and it is conceded that all of those still in the mine are dead.

None of the mines in this district were yet working, and thousands of people visited the scene of the Red Ash disaster. Some of the dead bodies have been shipped to the former homes of the victims. Many funerals were held here Wednesday and many will be held today.

No definite cause for the explosion has yet been learned by Governor Atkinson, the state and district mine inspectors and others who are investigating the cause. In addition to the theories of dust, fire damp, etc., it was claimed that natural gas escaped into the mine and that it ignited when the miners entered with their lighted lamps. The work of rescuing parties is retarded by hot air and it is thought the mine is on fire. Air is being pumped into the mine by compression. It will probably be several days before all the bodies can be recovered, as they are scattered along for almost a mile under the ground and it will require much time to clear the debris from this long subterranean course.

The following bodies of the victims of the Red Ash disaster were removed from the mine:

Simon Fitts.
Neville Ramsey.
Ed. Hamrick (white), aged 12.
Volley Agery.
John Stone.
Bob Hall.
Smith Franklin.
Hollister Noell.
Isaac Morris.
N. Dewes (colored).

The body of a white man, as yet not identified, was also rescued.

It is discovered that there were three more men in the mine than were known of Tuesday—Isaac Morris, Walter Dennis, and a man whose name is not known, all colored.

VAUGHN DIED AFTER OPERATION.

Four Deaths From the Missouri Pacific Wreck—Another May Die.

KANSAS CITY, March 8.—W. R. Vaughn, the Cincinnati newspaper man, who was injured in the Missouri Pacific wreck at Independence a week ago, died at the University hospital, after an operation on his arm. This makes four deaths as a result of the wreck.

Vaughn was 30 years old and unmarried. W. R. Vaughn, a Washington newspaper man, is his father.

Mrs. J. Balke, a relative of Mrs. and Miss Schridlapp, of Cincinnati, who were killed in the wreck, is still in a critical condition.

SUBURBAN NEWS.

JAMES N. RUSSELL,

Salt Well to Be Established on Allison Farm—W. C. Johnson to Be Census Enumerator.

Dr. James Nelson Russell, aged 56, died at his home in Chester yesterday afternoon after a short illness. Congestion of the brain was the cause of his death, although he was completely paralyzed when he died.

Dr. Russell was born and raised in Virginia. He moved with his family to Chester in April, 1897, coming from Mason county, in the southern part of the state. He was the father of four children, two boys and two girls. Russell was well acquainted with Devil Anse Hatfield. A few weeks ago Russell said he intended to go back to Mason county during the spring and spend a few weeks with Hatfield, as they had arranged to go hunting in the mountains.

Doctor Russell was a Mason, belonging to the lodge at Mason City, W. Va. It is likely the services will be in charge of the Masons of Chester.

He owned a third interest in the Chester Drug company.

The remains will be taken by boat to Mason City tomorrow evening for interment.

JOHNSON APPOINTED

Census Enumerator of Grant District. Population Expected to Reach 2,300.

Justice of the Peace Washington O. Johnson, of the Grant district, will be appointed census enumerator of that district. A few days ago Johnson received a letter from Hon. Harvey W. Harmer, of Clarksburg, W. Va., stating that his application and recommendations had been carefully examined and the "papers" were not surpassed by any applicant for the position in the First congressional district of West Virginia, which is composed of the eleven northern counties.

The Grant district is bounded on the east and south by the Pennsylvania state line, on the north by the Ohio river, and on the west by the Poe district. Fronting on the river the district extends from the state line to Mahans. In 1890 the census of the district was taken by Johnson. The population was then 1,121, and this year Johnson expects to see that number doubled. He will receive from $4 to $6 a day and also 15 cents for every farm listed.

A SALT WELL.

One May Be Opened on the Margaret Allison Farm.

Charles Allison and Harry Mercer have approached O. A. Heck relative to the purchasing of the latter's well on the Margaret Allison farm. A vein of salt has been located, and the men who desire to get this particular well claim that salt can be taken out in paying quantities. It is said that Heck is willing to sell.

Among the Sick.

Lincoln Allison is quite ill at his home in Chester, suffering with an attack of pneumonia.

Mrs. Plotts, who has been very ill at her home on Caroline avenue for several weeks, has recovered.

Toll Collector Sick.

Toll Collector Todd is confined to his home on Fourth street with an attack of grip. His son is now looking after the office.

For a spring suit go to F. Laufberger's.

AFTER A SITE.

Are Coming to East End--A Poultry Farm to Be Established in the Suburb.

Alex. Chaffin, of East End, is in receipt of a letter from the Portsmouth Wheel company, located at Washington Court House. Mr. Chaffin would not give out the contents of the letter, but said that matters were very favorable for the company to locate their plant in the East End, and that probably next week representatives of the company would be in the suburb to look after available manufacturing sites. Every influence will be used to have the company come to East End, inasmuch as they employ a large amount of skilled labor.

POULTRY FARM.

One Will Be Established in East End Soon.

A poultry farm is to be established in the East End within the next few weeks and the details of the new industry, if it could be called such, are now being arranged. The farm will be owned by W. S. Burton, of Fallsburg, Ky., and John Jackson, of East End. Burton is now in the suburb conferring with Jackson and will leave for his southern home Friday evening. Next week he will ship, if they can be secured, 500 chickens to Jackson and he will open the "barn yard." Several good sized lots are being considered on which the farm will be established, but no lease has been made.

Changed Shops.

Edward MacKintosh, a printer at the Laughlin China Co.'s old plant, has been transferred to the new pottery in the East End. The change was made yesterday afternoon and three girls who worked with MacKintosh were also transferred to the new works. All the employees of the old plant are gradually being moved to the new works and new labor is being placed in the old pottery.

Among the Sick.

The condition of Harvey Haslett, who has been quite ill at his home near Dry Run for several weeks, is unchanged.

There is no change in the condition of Benjamin Heckathorne, who is ill at his home in Helana.

A New Walk.

John Spence, who has charge of the East End streets, is now employed in constructing a cinder path from the potteries fronting along the railroad to Mulberry street. This is something that has been long needed.

Three Months of School.

Superintendent Grant McDade, of the Neville institute, stated yesterday that the institute would close about June 1. The institute has nine months of school.

Another New House.

Alex. Chaffin, East End, will commence the erection of a new house on Erie street within the next few weeks. Plans have been prepared.

Repaired the Crossing.

The railroad crossing at Mulberry street was repaired yesterday. It has been in a bad condition for some weeks.

Moved to East End.

Buyer in Town.

Henry J. Dake, purchaser for Autenreith & Sons, Allegheny City, was in our city today visiting various potteries and picking up bargains in the way of novelties.

SEVERAL WELLS

WILL BE DRILLED IN ST. CLAIR TOWNSHIP.

Arbuckles Have 1,200 Acres Leased and Intend to Start Drilling Next Week.

The Arbuckles of Pittsburg, who have 1,200 acres of land leased in and around St. Clair township will commence to drill for oil or gas very soon. The first well will be down on the Dan Johnson farm and the drilling machinery will be hauled to that farm the first of next week. It is the intention of the parties to thoroughly develop the territory and several wells will be put down. St. Clair citizens are somewhat excited over the affair, and it is probable a number of people will put down wells on their own land.

SAD SEQUEL

To the Death of Walter Perdue, a Railroad Well Known Here.

ALLIANCE, March 8.—[Special]—There is a sad sequel to the death of Walter Perdue, who was killed on the Cleveland and Pittsburg road about two weeks ago. He was engaged to Miss Artie Patterson, of Alliance, and the shock so terribly affected the young lady that on Tuesday morning she attempted suicide by swallowing a dose of arsenic. Only the most heroic efforts of the attending physician saved her life. Her family has been very unfortunate of late. Her father has been ill for several years; a brother died of typhoid while serving in Cuba, and another brother was killed on the railroad. The death of her betrothed was the culmination which led her to attempt her own life.

MAKING A CHANGE.

The Dresden Pottery Will Once More Use Gas to Fire All Their Kilns.

It will only be a short time until all the kilns at the Dresden pottery will be fired with gas. The company has decided to dispense with the use of coal as far as possible and the pipes to the kilns are now being put in and the change will be made as soon as possible. The Ohio Valley Gas company will supply the pottery. It is thought to be only a question of a short time until almost all the plants are using gas, as the Ohio Valley company has a plentiful supply of it and there is no danger of a shortage.

ANNUAL MEETING.

The Water Works Trustees Will Finish the Year's Business on March 23.

The annual meeting of the water works trustees will be held Friday evening, March 23. Clerk Gipner will present his annual report of the amount of money collected and expended during the year and Superintendent Morley will present an annual report of the work of the department. It is expected both reports will be very good.

Execution of the Duke d'Enghien.

Colonel Laborde, knowing that the grave was actually dug in which the duke was to be put, after a short time awakened him and told him, if he had a lock of his hair or a letter to send to any of his family, that he (Colonel Laborde) would take care to forward it and would only part with it with his life. The duke replied, "I understand you." He cut off a lock of his hair, wrote a short letter and desired that a confessor might be sent to him. He was soon afterward led out.

Five of the soldiers refused to fire at him. They were immediately shot before his face and their bodies thrown into a ditch. They desired to put a bandage before his eyes. He answered he had looked death in the face before and could face it again. Seventeen soldiers fired at him.

Mme. Bonaparte did everything possible to save the duke. She implored Bonaparte on her knees, holding the skirt of his coat, which was torn off by his violent manner of going from her. She seized the other skirt, which was likewise torn off, and Bonaparte declared he would never go to bed till the duke was dead.

Lucien Bonaparte also exerted himself to the utmost, and, finding he had no success, in a rage took out a watch Bonaparte had given him, dashed it on the ground, breaking it in pieces, and said to his brother, "You will be treated in the same manner!"—"Life of Lady Stanley."

Her Advice.

John Luther Long, the well known author of several successful books and the teller of many charming stories, spent a summer at a resort along the New Jersey coast. On his way to his home there he was obliged to stop over one night at Seabright, and this story is told of his little visit: He was recognized by several people, and when he entered the dining room one of them came forward and asked him to occupy a seat at his table. He was quietly introduced as Mr. Long, and his literary reputation did not enter at all into the presentation. He was placed beside a very beautiful and charming young lady, and after awhile the conversation developed somewhat as follows: "Mr. Long, your name is quite familiar. I have run across it somewhere very recently."

"There are a great many Longs," he said.

"No; but I mean that I have read something somewhere. Oh, yes; I remember. It was a story called 'The Fox Woman.' Do you know who wrote it?"

Mr. Long was blissfully ignorant.

"Yes, I am sure that was it," she said.

"It may be by a relative. What did you think of it?"

$10,000 a Year For Queen Li.

WASHINGTON, March 8.—The senate committee on foreign relations authorized the reporting of an amendment to the diplomatic appropriation bill appropriating $20,000 to be paid to ex-Queen Liliuokalani, and providing for an annual donation of $10,000 to her as long as she may live.

Thomas J. Mooney Dead.

CLEVELAND, March 8.—Word was received from Havana, Cuba, of the death of Thomas J. Mooney, of the firm of Mooney Bros., this city. Mr. Mooney had gone on a southern cruise for the benefit of his health. His death occurred at sea while one day out from Havana.

Queen on Streets Today.

LONDON, March 8.—The queen today will drive through certain streets in London. Next winter she expects to visit Ireland.

It isn't the bodily sickness that hurts a man. He could stand that fairly well if his mind were easy. But Americans are busy. They have work to do—plans to make—schemes to execute. They are "plungers." They line up their incomes as soon as they receive them or re-invest them with the idea of increase. They cannot afford to be sick. Sickness is a calamity—a financial calamity as well as a physical one. So the sick man worries, and the more he worries, the sicker he grows.

Worry is a good thing at the right time. The minute you feel a symptom of sickness—worry about it—do something about it—cure yourself. When you begin to feel run-down—when a twinge of rheumatism tells you plainly that your blood is impaired—when you are losing flesh and vitality, go to the nearest drug store and get a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It is the greatest blood purifier and tissue builder on earth. It cures rheumatism and all other blood diseases by curing the cause. It purifies the blood and puts the blood making organs into good, healthy, working order. It tones up the stomach, stirs up the liver, helps the kidneys in their work and puts suffering nerves at rest. It contains no whisky, alcohol, opium or other dangerous drugs and does not, therefore, create a craving for stimulants or narcotics.

James E. Crampton, Esq., of Sharpsburg, Washington Co., Md., writes: "I was in business in Baltimore, and had rheumatism for three months; couldn't walk at all. I tried the best doctors I could get but they did me no good. I took three bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and it cured me sound. I came home to Sharpsburg and there were three cases of different diseases. I advised the patients to use Dr. Pierce's medicine, which they did, and all were cured. I have saved over one hundred dollars' worth of your medicine by telling people how it cured me. You can write to our druggist, Mr. G. F. Smith, in our town and he will tell you what I did for you in regard to selling and advertising your great remedies."

None Other.

There is no other foundation possible for a godly life and happiness than that which is laid in the life and teachings of Jesus of Nazareth. Whatever its crosses and self denials, whatever the privations and persecutions inseparable from the Christian course, there is no other possible road to excellence of moral and spiritual character. Self sacrifice is ever higher in quality and more powerful in soul dynamics than self seeking.

The lower passions may for a time dominate the world and occupy the places of power in commercial, political and social life, may even invade and usurp authority in the church, but so long as God is God and truth is truth so long will the rule of right be more potent than the rule of might. Whatever temporary successes and honors may be won by fraud and deceit, by lust and avarice, by cruelty and oppression, the day of God marches grandly on, and his children can afford to be patient and wait.

"Lo, I have overcome the world!" cries the Christ, and in His triumph we may share now and here. Not on the surface lies the safe basis of soul building. Dig deeper than customs and conventionalities of the times and build on bedrock for eternity.

Average Time of a Wink.

"In a twinkling of an eye" is a phrase for brevity, but M. Garten in "The Archives de Pfunger" has found the average time of a wink to be about .40 of a second. The eyelid descends in about .80 of a second, stays down about .13 of a second to .17 of a second and rises again in about .17 of a second. Winking varies much in different persons and rarely occurs when the attention is concentrated, but this omission is followed by a series of winks to make up, either by resting the eye or cleaning it.

FINE AND FIFTEEN DAYS

Cases Against His Wife and Son Nollod. Fine of Sherman Thomas Reduced From $25 and Costs to $10 and Costs—Other Saloon Cases Disposed Of.

LISBON, March 8.—[Special]—The following liquor law violations were passed upon yesterday afternoon:

William Mushenheimer, of East End, East Liverpool, indicted for selling liquor on Sunday, was fined $50 and costs and sentenced to 15 days in the county jail.

His wife, Mrs. Kate Mushenheimer and his son, Charles Mushenheimer, also indicted, were not tried, their cases being nollod.

After consideration the court reduced the fine of Sherman Thomas, a minor of East Liverpool, sentenced to a fine of $25 and costs for furnishing liquor to a minor, to $10 and costs.

David Jones, Lisbon, was fined $30 and costs for selling to an habitual.

Edward Hickline, Lisbon, was fined $30 and costs for selling to a minor.

INDIGNANT FATHER.

He Demands That Heartless, Law-Breaking Saloonkeepers Shall Be Punished.

EDITOR NEWS REVIEW—John Ecker, who runs a saloon opposite city hall, East Liverpool, has been furnishing my boy with intoxicating liquor. He and his bartender, a big colored man known as "Jack," have been selling to my boy and to other boys in this city, carrying on their vile work right in front of municipal hall. I secured straight evidence, not hearsay, against these fellows in ten different cases, and could have made it at least twenty more cases. The grand jury at Lisbon found true bills in eight of the cases, and the court finally allowed Ecker to compromise by pleading guilty to four of the cases, giving him the penalty of $65 and costs in each case, and five days in jail in each case.

Fellow citizens, is it not infamous that such a den of villainy and iniquity, controlled and operated by such infamous law-breakers, is permitted to exist in this or any other city? Is it not high time that the "Clark" bill, or some more stringent and far-reaching bill, shall be enacted, in order that we may be rid of such hell holes and such characters as do devil's business behind screened windows and doors. Your boy is not safe, any more than is mine. These drunkard-makers have no conscience, and they have been carrying on their nefarious and illegal traffic under the very noses of the mayor and his officers. Some men assert that Ecker's sentence was a salty one. He should have received the full sentence of the law in each and every one of the eight cases when true bills were found against him, and justice was outraged when this was not done. It is high time that all true men and women of East Liverpool shall unite and drive the saloon from our city. Forbearance has ceased to be a virtue.

The Guy brothers are very popular here, as evidenced by the large audiences they command. Their orchestral music was exceptionally good, the overture was well staged and first-class and the jokes new."

GET INSIDE.

Robbing the back won't cure backache.

A liniment may relieve, but can't cure. Backache comes from the inside, from the kidneys.

Doan's kidney pills get inside.

They cure sick kidneys.

Here is East Liverpool proof that this is so:

Mr. H. Thompson, of 306 Fourth street, presser at the D. E. McNicol pottery, and resident of East Liverpool for the past 45 years, says: "During my campaign experiences between the years of '61 and '64 I contracted a weakness of the kidneys, and at intervals I had an aching pain across the small of my back and was subject to attacks of muscular rheumatism especially in damp weather. I was frequently so bad that I could scarcely get up when down, and in fact could hardly get around at all. I tried many remedies endeavoring to get rid of my trouble, but found nothing until I got Doan's kidney pills at the W. & W. pharmacy. They filled the bill exactly, giving me almost immediate relief, and warded off the last attack."

Not Absolutely Ignorant.

It is commonly understood that one of the newspapers of New York city has a rule to employ none but college graduates on its staff. It may or it may not be true. Nevertheless a young man of good address, bringing with him excellent recommendations and equipped for journalistic work by several years' experience, called one day at the editorial office of that paper.

He made so good an impression that the managing editor was about to assign him a place on the staff when, as if remembering something he had overlooked in examining the applicant, he suddenly asked:

"By the way, of what college or university are you a graduate?"

"I am not a graduate of any," replied the young man, "but I know better than to write 'pants' for 'trousers,' 'plead' for 'pleaded' and 'he was given a chance' for 'a chance was given him.' I never use the phrase 'in our midst.' I understand the correct use of 'who' and 'whom' and of 'shall' and 'will.' I prefer 'officer' to 'official,' 'dwelling' to 'residence.' I avoid 'as to whether,' 'abhor,' 'reproachful,' never split an infinitive and never write a sentence long enough to tie in a double bow-knot."

He got the position.—Fourth Estate

"Oh, yes, I remember her perfectly," replied Gagster. "What ever became of her?" "I'm sorry to disappoint you, Throggins—here is where the variation comes in—but I have not the slightest idea. I didn't marry her."—Chicago Tribune.

TOWNSHIP TICKET.

Justice of the Peace,
H. P. M'CARRON.
Clerk,
J. N. HANLEY.
Trustee,
JOSEPH BEARDMORE.

KENTON Democrats nominated a candidate for mayor by flipping coins. They didn't care the toss of a copper who got it.

THE ECKER CASE.

Fathers and mothers of East Liverpool, your sons are in deadly danger, for time and for eternity, when saloons like that run by Ecker, in front of municipal hall, are permitted to exist and carry on their infamously illegal traffic.

CAN THIS BE TRUE?

And now it is said, on good authority, that a prominent Republican councilman is and has been advising with Democracy, in common with the Liquor League, for the defeat of the Republican candidate for council in the Fourth ward, David McLane. If this be true, and there appears to be no doubt of its correctness, Mr. Councilman had better leave the party he disgraces.

HOMELESS CHILDREN.

State Senator Marchant has introduced a bill, supported by the state board of charities, which proposes the employment of a state children's home agent by the charities board, to devote his time to finding homes for the children. There are 2,400 children in the Ohio homes, most of whom, as matters stand, will remain there until they become of age for discharge. Indiana has just tried this experiment and found it so successful that the appropriation has been doubled.

WATCH THEM.

Yes, and watch them very closely. They are determined to try to down any and all men who will not bow to them and act in accordance with their orders and wishes. They don't care what party the candidates or nominees belong to. They don't want MEN elected. They want THINGS—creatures who can be bought and sold at so much a head. Of course we refer to the Liquor League of East Liverpool. They should be defied and taught a much needed lesson. The day of the rule of the whisky flask and beer keg has passed away. Better things are in sight. Give 'em open defiance. You can afford to do it. Be MEN—not THINGS.

OVERSTUDY.

A writer in the Ohio Educational Monthly says: In our own schools for a normal child the time required for school duties is as follows: In the primary grades only one-seventh of the child's waking hours in each year; in the grammar grades one-fifth of the waking hours, and in the high school one-fourth. These figures are based on an allowance of nine hours daily for sleep. Holidays are deducted, not recess time. For the upper grammar grades one hour of home study is included and two hours of home study in the high school. Over study will continue as long as parents insist upon pressing their children forward, either because they wish them to keep pace with their neighbor children or because they desire to get them through school as rapidly as possible so they can be put to work and earning wages. That too many studies are pursued, as asserted by Editor Bok, of the Ladies' Home Journal, this writer claims, is not a cause of over study. Instead, by adding variety, it gives zest to the studies. Improper hours and distractions outside of school do more harm than over study, although the evil effects are sometimes attributed to too much study. The co-operation of parents with teachers would obviate most of the over study.

Superintendent R. E. Rayman fully concurs with the opinions expressed by the writer in the Monthly. He says children are frequently overburdened outside of school, and that, taken in connection with their school work, does overwork them and the school gets the credit. Getting an education is not unlike getting anything else in this world. It requires time and effort in order to succeed. It would be well, Mr. Rayman adds, for Mr. Bok to consider some of these practical features that really exist in practical work, which, of course, he does not know anything about, not having had the experience.

MRS. REARK ILL.

Aged Lady Seriously Upset by Death of Two Grandchildren.

Mrs. Rebecca Reark, mother of Charles Reark, Fifth and Monroe, has been seriously ill with nervous prostration since the death of her two little grandchildren last week. She is 74 years of age, and the shock of the loss of her two favorite grandchildren completely unnerved her. Her many friends will be pained to learn of her illness but will be glad to know it is not of a dangerous nature, her condition being slightly better this morning.

Card of Thanks.

We desire to thank our friends and neighbors, and also Dr. Clark Crawford, for the many acts of kindness during our sad bereavement, in the death of our two children.

TO BE REPORTED SOON

Senate Judiciary Committee to Act on Clark Local Option Bill

SOMETIME IN THE COMING WEEK

The Arguments in Detail as Presented at the Meeting of the Committee Held to Hear Petitions For and Protests Against the Bill.

COLUMBUS, March 8.—[Special]—The senate judiciary committee has heard arguments for and against the Clark local option bill, and it can now be asserted with reasonable positiveness that the committee, when it takes action next week, will report it without a recommendation as it came from the house and that the senate will pass the bill finally as it stands. Eighteen senators, three of a majority, are certain for the measure.

At the hearing every point made by the supporters of the bill was warmly applauded by the large audience, while the remarks of the opponents were received with silence and incredulous smiles. Mr. Clark, author of the bill, said it was merely designed to give the residents of wards and districts the power to say whether or not they wanted saloons within their districts. There was no infringement of personal liberty, but rather an amplification of it.

The opponents of the bill devoted most of their time to attacking prohibition, which, they said, was the ultimate aim of the Clark bill. They talked about the property rights of the liquor trade and the outrage of robbing the poor man of his "club." They also claimed that the bill was unconstitutional, but failed to prove it.

Mr. Todd, state lecturer for the farmers' institutes, declared that the farmers were heartily in favor of the bill. Those who spoke in favor of the bill were General Hurst, Chillicothe; Philip Roentinger, of Cincinnati, and Messrs. Clark and Todd. Those opposing were Judge Russell, of Meigs; A. W. Krumm, of Columbus, and Attorney Probasco, of Cincinnati, representing the liquor interests.

TRADES COUNCIL.

A Large Number of Delegates Were Seated Last Night.

Trades council met last night and the following delegates were seated: U. G. King, O. J. McHugh, typographical union, 318; E. J. Watkins, slipmakers, 21; A. E. Czech, tailors, 254; John Hughes, teamsters, 1,984; O. F. Patterson, George Pyle, porcelain makers, 1,669.

J. J. Weisend reported that the coopers had reorganized, and after transacting some routine business the council adjourned.

DIRECTOR ROSEBOROUGH

Has Been Taken From His Home to the Lakeside Hospital at Cleveland.

Word was received in the city yesterday that Physical Director Roseborough had been taken to the Lakeside hospital, Cleveland. Mr. Roseborough has been seriously ill at his home in Cleveland with typhoid fever, and his very many friends here hope that he may soon regain his health.

Big Bill for Nursing.

LISBON, March 7.—[Special]—Agnes Meister asks $750 from Robert Treffinger as administrator of the estate of Henry Rork, late of Franklin township, the amount being for the care of Catherine Rork, now deceased, widow of Henry Rork, for 80 weeks at $25 a week.

NAPOLEON AT ST. HELENA.

His Indignation at Being Spied Upon by His Keepers.

One of the "Talks With Napoleon" quoted from Dr. O'Meara's diary in The Century records Napoleon's indignation at being, as he considered it, spied upon while living at St. Helena. "I understand," said he, "that an officer is placed here to report about me and to see me two or three times in the 24 hours and that they are talking of making him go into my chamber to see me if I did not come out. Any person," said he then, with considerable agitation, "who endeavors to force his way into my apartment will be a corpse the moment he enters it. If he ever eats bread or meat afterward, I am not Napoleon. This I am determined on."

"I know that I will be killed afterward, as what can one do against a camp? But what of that? I have faced death many a time. Besides I am convinced that this governor, this chief of jailers, has been sent out on purpose to poison me or put me to death some way or another or under some pretext by Lord Castlereagh."

"I have seen," continued he, "Russians, Prussians, Arabs, Cossacks, Tartars, Spaniards, Persians, Turks" (here he enumerated a great many more), "and never in my life before did I behold so ill favored and forbidding a countenance or so down and horrid a look. He carries crime imprinted on his countenance. (Il porte le crime empreint sur son visage.) He is a man, to judge from his physiognomy, that one would select for the committal of any atrocious crime and as such has been selected out by your ministers, I suppose, on purpose to make away with me."

WON HIM A BRIDE.

The Ruse by Which One Young Man's Credit Was Established.

Major J. M. Burke told a good story of his experience in helping a friend to get the girl of his choice.

"He was a good fellow," said he, "but young and without much capital. The girl was a beauty and loved the boy, but the father (the same old irate father) objected and demanded that the boy show that he was capable of supporting a wife. This was in St. Louis about ten years ago, and the boy came to me with his troubles."

"Never mind," said I. "I'll fix it up all right. By the way, how much will you take for your right leg?"

"He looked at me as though I were crazy, but made no answer."

"I'll give you $10,000 for it," I said. "Will you take it?"

"No, I won't," he said. "What do you take me for?"

"Well, I knew the girl's father; he was a merchant, and I called to see him. We finally drifted around to talking about this young fellow; and the old man flared a little, stating that he wanted some one who could support a wife to have his daughter."

"Support a wife?" said I, in surprise. "Why, he certainly can do all that. Only a few days ago he refused $10,000 for a piece of property."

"His own property?" asked the father. "Certainly," said I.

"Who offered him the money?" asked he.

"I did, and he refused it," I answered. "He claimed it was worth more."

"Well, this made a hit, and no more questions were asked. The boy is doing well now and has a good family. I haven't spoken to the father since."—Washington Times.

More Than He Bargained For.

One evening when a traveling circus was on its way to a large town the proprietor resolved to make a halt for a few hours at a village some two or three miles from the town. So an agent was sent on in advance to the village to secure a favorable field for the rest by the wayside.

Noticing a large and suitable field, he sought out the owner and told him he would like to turn something out in the field for an hour or so before going on to the town and concluded by asking how much he required for the use of the field.

"Well," said the farmer, "I suppose half a crown won't hurt you."

"That," was the ready reply, "will do very well. But perhaps you don't mind taking a crown," an offer the somewhat astonished yeoman was only too glad to accept.

Fancy his surprise when, a few hours afterward, a herd of elephants, a dozen dromedaries and about 200 horses and ponies had not only been turned out into the field, but were fairly wiping the herbage out of existence.

That the farmer was furious goes without saying, but the circus proprietor pointed out that he had received twice as much as he had asked for something to be turned out for an hour or two.

"But," roared the farmer, more irate than ever, "do you think I bargained for a Noah's ark?"—Tit-Bits.

A Queer Transaction.

"A casual observer might suppose that our business was intensely prosaic," said a Poydras street commission merchant, "but such is far from being the case. All sorts of queer things happen in it, not the least of which are occasional consignments we receive from nowhere in particular."

"For instance, back in 1896 or thereabout we got a load of fine onions one day by boat. No directions accompanied them, but we took it for granted they would arrive by mail. When the expected letter failed to put in an appearance and we instituted inquiries, we could get no clew to the identity of the shipper, and all we could do was to sell the lot and deposit the money in bank, waiting on a claimant."

"Fully three years had elapsed when, to my surprise, another load of the same kind of onions came to hand, accompanied by a letter from the sender saying that he had forwarded a similar consignment at such and such a date and that his 'business relations with the house had been so satisfactory' he wished to repeat the transaction. We sent a check for the lump sum, but what the dickens he meant by his business relations being satisfactory when he had had only one deal with us, and didn't get his money on that. I never found out. I suppose he just forgot."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Their Little Weaknesses.

"Nations and women are a good deal alike."

"In what way?"

GORGEOUS SPLENDOR

Rainbow Raiment for the New City Marshal.

A GLORIOUS GLITTER OF GOLD

This city is to have an up-to-date police force with the beginning of the new administration.

Councilmen Peach, Marshall, Ashbaugh, Seckerson and Fisher met last evening at city hall and prepared some new rules for the government of the police force. The rules will be submitted at the next regular meeting of council and will be adopted, in order that they may go into effect with the coming administration. They are as follows:

Sub-division 2, rule 1—"It is required that every person required to serve on the police force shall be able to read and write the English language; that they shall be citizens of the United States and residents of the city of East Liverpool. They must be over 21 years of age, and measure not less than 5 feet 10 inches or weighing not less than 160 pounds, and must be of good health, good moral character, steady habits and sound body."

Section 12, sub-division of the rules and regulations for the government of the police force, is amended to read as follows:

"That the chief of police shall wear a uniform consisting of regulation cap of dark navy blue, to have one-half inch of gold band around and also to have shield of office on the front of cap. Uniform to consist of frock coat to be within three inches of knee, with double row brass buttons on front of coat and one-half inch band of gold braid on shoulders of coat, also around each sleeve, and he shall wear badge of office on left breast of outer garment.

"The uniform of police shall consist of navy blue frock coat, to be buttoned to neck and to be within three inches of knee, single row of buttons and helmet-hat to be of dark navy blue, with shield on front of helmet.

"The chief of police and officers shall at all times while on duty wear full uniforms, and also wear belts, their clubs to be worn in belts on outside of coat. Police shall also keep uniforms neat and clean and also have shoes blackened. Any officer who shall appear on duty without observing the foregoing regulations shall be suspended by either the mayor or the marshal for the period of two weeks without pay, and it shall be the duty of the mayor and the marshal to enforce this rule to the letter."

The rules are signed by G. W. Ashbaugh and A. L. Seckerson, of the police committee.

HON. C. C. BAKER.

The Congressional Candidate in East Liverpool and Getting Acquainted.

Hon. C. C. Baker has been in our city today, arriving on the eastbound train last night. He is a man of fine appearance and superb address and creates a very favorable impression as he passes to and fro, hand-shaking and forming the acquaintance of our merchants, business men and pottery workers. He wins friends by the manner in which he is conducting his canvass, having nothing but the very best words for his opponents. This is as it should be. The day of scurrilous attacks upon a rival or political opponent, especially among men who belong to the same party, should be buried deep in the sea of oblivion.

R. D. VanFossen, our townsman, served in the same regiment with C. C. Baker in the days of the civil war, and he speaks of Comrade Baker in warm terms of praise, asserting that he was a model soldier, and a skillful horseman, winning friends in his regiment in the same manner as he now wins friends in civil life. VanFossen asserts that Baker is a hustler from away back, and says that his congressional rivals will know that they have been in a contest before the battle of ballots ceases.

KEMP NOT GUILTY.

Acquitted of the Charge of Burglary at Salem—Ramsey Sentenced.

LISBON, March 8.—[Special]—In the case of Harry Kemp, of Salem, charged with burglarizing the D. W. Bonnell store, Salem, the jury retired at 7:30 last evening, and after being out seven hours, returned a verdict of not guilty.

A motion for a new trial in the Thos. Ramsey case, found guilty of same charge, was argued last evening and was overruled by Judge W. W. Hole this morning.

Ramsey will be sentenced to the Ohio state reformatory at Mansfield this afternoon.

READY FOR PRIMARIES

JUDGES, SUPERVISORS & CLERKS

Were Appointed From Among the Members of the Central Committee—McLane's Election Was Ratified—Candidates Must Send In Their Names.

The Republican central committee met last night and ratified the selection of D. M. McLane as a candidate for council from the Fourth ward.

The members of the committee will act as supervisors, judges and clerks of the county primary to be held Saturday, March 24, between the hours of 1 and 6 p. m. standard time. The parties who will have charge of the election are as follows:

First ward—First precinct, Joe Betz, Wm. Miller, John S. Goodwin; Second precinct, W. V. Blake, William Randolph, A. W. King.

Second ward—First precinct, J. H. Burgess, Edward Hatton, Charles Kinney; Second precinct, J. N. Hanley, George Grosshans, John Bossen.

Third ward—First precinct, G. H. Owen, M. D. Logan, J. W. Irwin; Second precinct, Arthur Grim, John Reark, W. O. Watson.

Fourth ward—First precinct, A. W. Thomas, D. F. Nellis, Criss McConnell; Second precinct, George Smith, W. G. Pollock, F. R. Burchill.

Fifth ward—Charles Gallagher, Jay Fisher, Irwin Allison.

A rule was passed that all candidates for the central committee must hand their names to the secretary by tomorrow evening in order to get on the ticket. This is in accordance with the new rules of the county committee.

C. C. Baker was present at the meeting and was introduced to the members of the committee.

SIGNED THE PAPER

Without Examination and Later Found What It Was to Their Cost.

A couple of uptown business men were recently approached by a young man and asked to sign a paper, which they supposed was a recommendation for him. A few days ago they were notified by one of the companies which the young man represented that he was short and asking them to make good. They then discovered that the supposed recommendation had been a bond. By attaching the young man's money they raised $100 of the $312 claimed and gave their notes for the balance. There was some talk that they intended to take action on the matter, but this was found impossible in the circumstances and nothing will be done as long as he remains in this city.

SETTLED A CASE.

The Ikirt-Veder Litigation in the Tennessee Court Has Been Settled.

The case of John S. Veder versus the late Dr. J. J. Ikirt has been settled by the Tennessee courts. In 1894 the doctor and Veder traded properties, and later it was found that Veder didn't have a clear title to the land in Beaver county that he had traded for property in Tennessee, as his wife had sued him for non-support and obtained judgment. Veder claimed that his land was worth more than the doctor's and wanted $1,600 damages, while the doctor asked that the sale be set aside. After the death of Doctor Ikirt the case was carried on by his executors, and in the court of chancery of Coffee county, Tennessee, Veder was restrained from entering a suit for damages, but the court would not set aside the sale. The court of appeals reversed the decision and set aside the sale and the supreme court sustained the decision, meaning a complete victory for the executors of the estate. A. H. Olark and George S. Ramsey were the attorneys in the case, and the litigation is of particular interest to people in this city.

FELL FROM FOURTH FLOOR.

Clemet Lemmon Seriously Injured at the New Brewery Today.

Clemet Lemmon, of Mulberry street, East End, was seriously injured at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon by falling from the fourth story of the new Crockery City brewery.

Lemmon was employed by the Potter, Fry Iron company, Cincinnati, and was working under Henry Whitman, superintendent of the structural department. He was assisting to place an iron girder when he slipped back, missed his footing and fell onto the roof of the hoisting engine room. In falling Lemmon fell across a piece of iron half an inch in thickness, used as a girder support, knocking it out of position. He was removed to the office and Doctor Hobbs summoned. His right leg was broken below the knee and a deep cut made on left side of his head.

ATTRACTIVE ADDRESS.

Rev. E. C. Little Speaks on the "Sin of Not Doing" Last Evening.

Rev. E. C. Little, of Washington, Pa., took as his subject at the First United Presbyterian church last night, the "Sin of Not Doing." He said it was an actual sin, because it was an omission to obey God's commands. It brought down Divine condemnation, the Scriptures citing the penalty for failure to do right. It was a prevalent sin, for many people thought they were all right because they did nothing. The lecture room being too small, the meeting was transferred to the church, where tonight's service will also be held.

Notice.

All prospective candidates for members of the Republican central committee of this township are required to file their names with the secretary of said committee on or before 6 p. m., of Friday, March 9, in order that names may be printed on ballots. By order of Republican central committee.

G. H. OWEN, chairman.
J. N. HANLEY, secretary.

Grim Case on Trial.

The case of Arthur Grim against the city of East Liverpool and Mayor C. A. Bough and his bondsmen is being heard before a jury in the court of Justice Rose this afternoon. The attorneys were talking most of the afternoon.

LEYMEISTER HAD A GUN

And Called on the Police For Assistance. Leymeister Was Arrested but the Revolver Wasn't Loaded When the Police Got It—Annie Jones Was Drunk.

Frank Leymeister was employed as a baker at the shop of A. Galm until about six weeks ago, when he quit. Joseph Duman was engaged to take his place. Last night Leymeister returned, and, going to the shop, addressed hard names to Duman and ended by pointing a revolver at him. Leymeister was arrested by Officer Wood at 11:30 at his room at the corner of Sixth and Jackson streets. The revolver was empty when Officers Davidson and Wood got it. This morning a charge of disorderly conduct was placed against Leymeister and the mayor fined him $24.60.

Annie Jones was found drunk and asleep at the corner of Second and Washington streets this morning at 2:30 o'clock. When searched a half-pint of whisky was found in one stocking and a comb and a curling iron in the other stocking. She had a few hairpins in her pockets. The mayor turned her out this morning.

Dave and Mellville Wooley will call on the mayor this evening and tell how the trouble happened at their house a few evenings ago.

WELL DRESSED MEN.

An Expert Says Denver Heads the List, With San Francisco Second, Chicago Third, Washington Fourth, and New York Trails Along Fifth.

"I'd probably be discharged, mobbed and have all sorts of things happen to me if I said this over in the big town, but I can name you at least four American cities the men of which are better dressed year in and year out than the men of New York," said a man who travels for a New York merchant tailor's supply house and whose territory is the whole continent. "I'll name them in the order of their standing as communities inhabited by the best dressed men: Denver, San Francisco, Chicago and Washington. How do I figure it? Just according to the rule of sight, that's all. I don't profess to know much about Egyptology, but I do know a well dressed man when I see him."

"Mind, I don't say that all of the men of those four cities are better dressed than all of the men of New York, but I do maintain and say any impartial man who knows the four towns mentioned as they are now will uphold me in maintaining that in ratio to their respective populations the men of Denver, San Francisco, Chicago and Washington are very much better dressed than are the men of New York. Of course this has been the case only in very recent years. New York was until, say, five years ago away ahead of all its rivals as a city of the best dressed men. At that time if you wanted to see hundreds of perfectly dressed and perfectly groomed men engaged in doing business all you had to do was to take an elevated train up town in the neighborhood of 10 o'clock in the morning and watch the men, young, middle aged and old, who boarded the train for the downtown financial district."

"Of course you'll still see slews of thoroughly got up men down in the financial district of New York, but not so many by 75 per cent as formerly. On show occasions, such as Easter Sunday afternoon, New York will still turn out a finely clad batch of men, but I'm not talking about show occasions now. I'm talking about men who are well clad year in and year out, and it is in this respect that New York has fallen into the 'also ran' list."

"When you meet up town in New York a genuinely swagger man—not a flashily dressed man, but one who is thoroughly and properly rigged out from his hat to his shoes—you are liable to turn around to get a rear view of him, and then the fact is liable to be slowly borne in upon you that he is some member of a theatrical profession whom you have seen upon the stage. There are still plenty of flashily dressed men circulating around New York, but a flashily dressed man never will be a well dressed man."

"The reason why the men of Denver are such a well dressed lot isn't entirely clear to me. It can't be especially because there are so many well off men in that town, because there are myriads of well off men in New York. Maybe it is because, in proportion to the population, there are probably more men with large incomes in Denver than in any city on the continent, not excepting Helena, that used to bear that distinction. You scarcely ever see a badly dressed or an over-dressed man in Denver. Shabby men there are in plenty, of course, but I don't call a shabby man a badly dressed man. A badly dressed man is one who, while having plenty of means to equip himself with a good make up, hasn't the taste to do it and therefore makes his appearance as a slouch—that's the word for it—slouch. A shabby man is simply a man who is on his uppers and makes no pretensions."

"The clerks and other men of very moderate incomes in Denver, men who can't afford to 'keep in the push' as far as correct dressing goes, don't make any effort whatever to tog themselves out in cheap, dismal imitation of the men with plenty of money; but, like the young woman in the song, 'they always dress in black.' The business men who run plants of their own, however, seem to pay just as much attention to the job of getting themselves ready for business on weekday mornings as they do to the task of arraying themselves for social functions or evening appearances."

"Easterners who have gone out to the coast have often commented upon the swiftness of the average well fixed

San Francisco man in the matter of clothes. The San Francisco man with an income certainly gets himself up 'proper,' as we say, and he's got the right kind of a make up for every occasion. Take the race tracks around San Francisco, for example. Every man who goes to the races out there goes in a regular racing rig, from pad-dock coat to fieldglass and from the top of his hat crowned derby to the soles of his 'downs' boots, and so do the Frisco women, for the matter of that. Another thing, I'll venture to assert that nine out of ten men in San Francisco whose incomes are $2,000 a year or over rig out in evening clothes every night in the year, summer included. A great many more men of moderate incomes in Washington don evening clothes than men of similar incomes in New York. The men of Washington dress with singular neatness, many with notable elegance. The excellence of the Washington average, I suppose, is to be accounted for by the absence of a large laboring class here."

Chinese Leather.

The process by which the Chinese leather acquires its peculiar characteristics is described as follows:

The skins are put into tubs containing water, saltpeter and salt and after 30 days are taken out, the hair is shaved off and the skins well washed in spring water. Each hide is then cut up into three pieces and well steamed, which is done by passing them several times backward and forward over a steaming oven. Further, each piece is stretched out separately over a flat board and secured with nails, so as to dry gradually and thoroughly in the sun. The smoke of the oven makes the leather black, and if it is desired to have it of a yellow appearance it is rubbed over with water in which the fruit of the so called wongchee tree has been soaked.

Of the offal glue is made by heating it in pans for 12 hours over a slow fire, and the glue so obtained is poured into rough earthen vessels, where it remains three days in order to coagulate. The solid mass is cut into pieces with sharp knives and carefully laid upon gratinglike trays to dry, the time taken in drying varying from 5 days, with a northwest wind, to 30 or 40 days with a southwest.—Boston Transcript.

The Land of the Guitar.

In Portugal men play upon the guitar as naturally as Yankees whistle. The peasants are universally given to the instrument, chiefly as an accompaniment to the voice. In towns and villages the artisans are often expert guitar players and walk in groups to and from their work, enlivening the journey with music and song. The carpenter who comes to your house to execute a small job brings his guitar with his tools, and the blacksmith is a far better performer on the guitar than the anvil.

When the Portuguese day laborer or workman has finished his long day's toil, he does not hie him to a wineshop to squander the few cents he has earned; he does not even lean against a post and smoke or whittle a stick while swapping yarns with his fellows. If he did not bring his guitar with him, he goes straight home and gets it, rests and comforts himself with the music while supper is being prepared. Afterward he spends the evening singing doggerel songs to a strumming accompaniment, tilted back in a chair against his own house or on the doorstep of a neighbor.—Philadelphia Record.

His Paraphrase.

"You often see the phrase 'Memphis, the Queen of the Valley, God bless her,'" remarked a newspaper man the other day. "The birth of that expression was the wherefore of one of the wittiest things Ned Carmack ever said."

"It was in the lifetime of The Appeal-Avalanche and while Mr. Carmack was editor of The Commercial. There was a municipal election of minor importance on hand, and the editor of The Avalanche was just 'happy' enough to do a two column editorial of gush concerning the life and death issues of the election under the sentimental headline 'Memphis, the Queen of the Valley, God Bless Her!'"

"Mr. Carmack came out in the morning paper with no other comment on the all important subject under consideration than this epigram, which completely covered the case and made the phrase immortal. 'Blank, the fool of the Valley, God help him!'"—Memphis Scimitar.

In Madagascar silk is the only fabric used in the manufacture of clothing. It is cheaper than linen in Ireland.

UNION LABELS

It should be a deep-rooted principle of all union workmen and union sympathizers, and particularly those members of the different organizations of East Liverpool, to buy nothing but Union Label goods, in preference to all others. And why not? If we ask fair wages for our labor, why should we buy goods made at unfair wages by others?

The Union Label in every industry is a guarantee of fair wages, decent working hours, and union labor employed.

UNION PAPERS.

PATRONIZE UNION CLERKS.

All members of the R. C. N. P. A. can show this card for it when making their purchases.

COLOR IS CHANGED EACH QUARTER. Good quality union made goods are lower in price and more properly signed, and STAMPED with the number of the Label.

UNION MADE BOOTS AND SHOES.

The Boot and Shoe Workers' union is the national head of the trade, and is a new combination of all the branches of boot and shoe workers. The above trade-mark when found on the sole or lining of a boot or shoe, is a guarantee that the same is made by union labor. Look for the above design stamped on the sole of every pair of boots or shoes you buy.

CUSTOM TAILORS' LABEL.

The Journeymen Tailor's Label is to be found in the inside breast pocket of the coat, on the under side of the buckle strap of the vest, and on the waistband lining of the pants. It is printed in black ink on white linen.

UNION MADE CLOTHING.

You will find the linen label attached by machine stitching to the inside breast pocket of the coat, on the inside of the buckle strap of the vest, and on the waistband lining of the pants.

BICYCLE LABEL.

"Do unto others as ye would that others should do unto you." You will endorse the "Golden Rule" by buying and riding bicycles bearing this Label. The colors are as follows: The Union shield is in red, white and blue, on a background of pea green, bordered by gold. The Label will be placed on the upper front side of the seat that receives the seat post.

UNION BREAD AND CRACKERS.

This is a full size facsimile of the Label of the Bakers' and Confectioners' union. It is printed on fine white paper and is pasted on each loaf of union-made bread. It is an evidence that the bread is made under fair and wholesome conditions, and in clean and healthy bakeries. Following is the confectioners' and cracker Label:

Lady Churchill's Patriotic Retort.

Lady Churchill has inherited the wit of her father, as she demonstrated up on one occasion to an eminent British politician. He was somewhat annoyed at the campaign she had made and said:

"I really don't understand, Lady Churchill, why or how it is that American ladies refuse to enter political life in their own country, but overwhelm us here in England."

"That is because you have never traveled in the United States. The men there are so intelligent and patriotic that they do not require the services of our sex as an educating force."
